Castle Looted Of $7,500,000 Crown Jewels

HECHINGEN, Germany (UP) — Thieves scaled the turreted walls of ancient Hohenzollern Castle early Friday, cut their way through the iron bars of an unguarded storeroom and stole the Prussian crown jewels, valued at $7,500,000.

German police set the value of the gems as historical and art objects.

German police, Friday, set up roadblocks throughout the rolling country of southwest Germany over which the mountain-top structure towers like a castle in a story book. They believed the thieves would head for the Swiss or French border, 50 miles away.

The castle, first built in the ninth century and restored 100 years ago, overlooks the little town of Hechingen from a 2,800-foot mountain. Its massive walls are 10 feet thick and the jewels were displayed behind inch-thick iron bars.

Police said the thieves scaled the walls with wooden ladders and ropes and cut through the heavy iron windows with great pinchers such as used by army engineers. They were so stealthy that watch dogs did not bark. The castle is now inhabited only by servants.

The stolen valuables ranged from the military baton of the Hohenzollern marshals to the jeweled snuff boxes of Frederick the Great, conqueror of the German kingdoms and of Europe. Only the Prussian royal crown was overlooked.

Special investigators who arrived here from Stuttgart state headquarters said the missing crown jewels none of them insured included:

Six diamond-studded snuff boxes belonging to Frederick the Great, the boxes from which the ruler dispensed snuff to his wounded soldiers on the battlefields of Europe.

The Prussian field marshal's baton set with rubies and diamonds.

Queen Victoria's baptismal gift to Prince Wilhelm of Prussia, a solid gold dessert bowl with fork and spoon.

A massive gold plate, last of 50 platters owned by the Hohenzollern family. The other 49 were sold to finance the Seven Years' War in which Frederick conquered Silesia.

A Maltese cross with breast plate covered with diamonds.

A star of the Black Eagle Order of Prussia set with diamonds.

A diamond-studded Bulgarian Great Cross with star and crown.

A wristband with painted miniatures of Kaiser Wilhelm and seven children, surrounded with diamonds.

A wrist band with a miniature of Queen Louise, who reigned during the period of Napoleon.

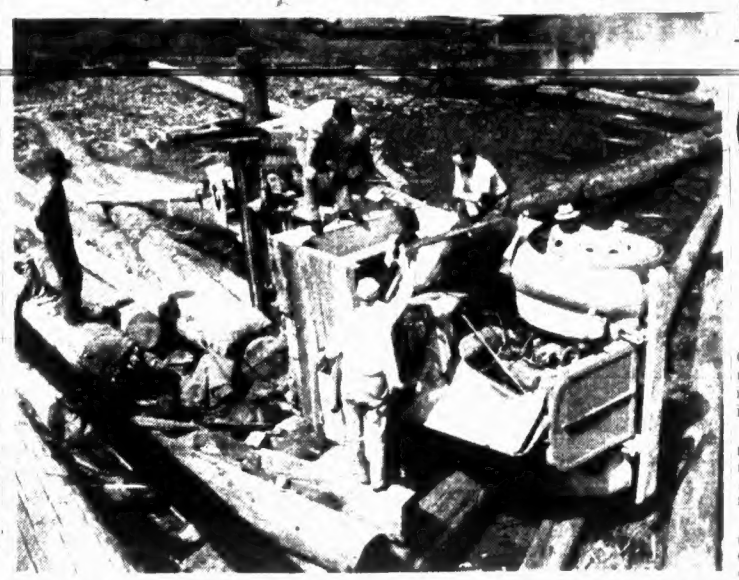
Last big jewel robbery in Germany was in 1926 when three American officers stole $1,500,000 worth of crown jewels of the House of Hesse from stately Kronburg Castle outside Frankfurt.

Hohenzollern Castle contains the tombs of Frederick the Great, Wilhelm I and others in the dynasty of power that made the Hohenzollerns kings of Prussia.

Injured Driver Lifted from Wreckage



Logging truck operator Stanley Bangham of Campbell River is lifted out of the cab after the wharf on which his truck was standing collapsed Wednesday at Campbell River. Bangham suffered a leg fracture in the accident. Mrs. George Jacks, a nearby resident, heard the crash and called an ambulance. Dr. John Dejoux of Victoria and Dr. James Maloney attended the injured man at the scene.

Factory Workers Cow Red Guards

Tough East Germans March To Receive U.S. Food Aid

BERLIN (UP) — Tens of thousands of tough east German factory workers — the men whose June 17 rebellion was quelled only by Russian tanks — swarmed into West Berlin Saturday in a hunger march.

They intimidated Communist border guards as they crossed the East-West city line for small pieces of American food.

From all over the Soviet zone the men who rose against their Communist masters in June came into West Berlin despite threats of arrest and confiscation of the food they obtained. They walked past the eyes of past Communist police, shoot-[illegible]

In Washington, the House of Representatives Friday night approved and sent to the Senate a compromise bill giving President Eisenhower broad power to ship $20 million worth of government food stocks to hungry people abroad.

A senate-House conference committee earlier rejected a House provision that would have limited to $20 million the quantity that could be shipped to any one country. Police Divert Parcels

BERLIN (AP) — Communist police have seized 300 tons of United States-donated food from needy East Germans heading home from West Berlin and distributed it to Soviet zone welfare institutions as "Soviet aid."

The seizures Friday, the first mass confiscation of the week, were concentrated in six Soviet zone suburbs around Berlin.

East Berlin police sent [illegible] trucks identified the food as Soviet. The Kremlin has an agreement with Premier Otto Grotewohl's Communist government to sell East Germany $50 million worth of foodstuffs during the remainder of the year in return for strategic industrial goods.

Flier Denies Charge

From AP and BUP Dispatches

TOKYO — A survivor from a United States B-50 shot down Wednesday by two Russian MiG jets says the big bomber was attacked 40 miles off the Siberian coast. Moscow has charged the plane was over Siberia.

The state department immediately sent a protest to Moscow. It said it had information that some of the 16 others aboard the bomber vessel had been picked up by Russian vessels.

Hard on the heels of the U.S. protest, Moscow fired its own protest against the shooting down by American fighters of a Soviet plane "over China." The state department called the Russian claim "nonsense."

Russia claimed its plane was attacked by four American fighters and shot down July 27, the day the Korean truce began. It also said 21 passengers and crewmen of the IL-12 were killed.

WAR AREA

The state department said the plane was shot down eight miles south of the Yalu River over North Korea in a "war area" before the cease-fire went into effect.

Capt. John Ernest Roche, co-pilot of the B-50, who spent 22 hours in the water before rescue, told Far East air force headquarters Friday that the plane was nowhere near the mainland.

He said his crew did not even know MiGs were in their vicinity until they were fired upon. The MiGs did not challenge or warn the bomber away from the area, he said.

He said he was not sure how many Russian jets were involved.

"Our first indication of trouble was when 20-millimeter cannon shells hit the No. 1 engine, knocked away the cowl and part of the flaps on the left wing," he said.

SHORT BURST

Roche said one of the bomber's gunners fired a short burst at the attacking aircraft.

He said at least one man — Capt. Stanley O'Kelly — the plane's commander, bailed out safely but he lost contact with him in rough seas.

He said the weather was clear and three types of navigation showed the American plane to be 40 miles southeast of the Siberian coast.

Twenty Lives Lost In Submerged Bus

MORRISBURG, Ont. (CP) — Twenty persons, including eight women, were killed Friday after a Toronto-Montreal express bus of Colonial Coach Lines crashed into a light truck, stopped on the highway and plunged into the Williamsburg Canal.

Nineteen persons survived. They were 37 bus passengers, 12 men and five women, and the drivers of the bus and truck. There were four children aboard the bus.

The bus knocked the half-ton pickup truck into the canal two miles west of here and followed it, hurtling down a 30-foot embankment to settle with its full load of 37 passengers in the middle of the passage in 20 feet of water.

A bizarre twist to the tragedy was that even as the bus speeded to its fate Ontario provincial police were rushing to the scene to warn traffic on this main trucking artery of ice danger.

One truck driver not identified, was reported to have passed the stopped truck and passed all the Morrisburg police office to report the hazard. Minutes later another trans-port driver, also unidentified, careened dangerously past the little truck, braked and raced back with flares.

He and the provincial police are reported to have beat-ing the scene when the bus came. By the time they arrived it was all over.

The accident happened at 1:05 a.m. Frantically, sleep-dazed passengers smashed windows in the darkness and scrambled into the water and reached shore. Both doors apparently were buckled shut by the impact.

Jewess the worst bus tragedy of its kind in Canadian history.

But the bus driver, Lothar Chesebrough, 30, of Kingston, and the truck driver, Max Roadman, 40, of Toronto were taken to hospital in a state of deep shock. Police declined to issue an official statement on the accident until they could interview the drivers.

In a garage at the rear of a funeral parlor police grimly counted the dead. There were 12 men and eight women. Most were holidaying. They came from Eastern Canada, the Maritimes and overseas.

By late Friday night 35 had been positively identified and seven tentatively.

One survivor was recovered Ronald F. Morrish of Dorset, England, former chairman of the British Labor Court and representative of the International Labor Organization.

"The first thing I remember was an explosion. Instantly he went shocked like a blue flash. Then the bus seemed to be turning over and over. I don't know whether it did or not, but that was my impression," said.

"At some stage I realized that water was coming into the bus. I was sitting on the left side right next to the emergency door and I tried to open the door but couldn't.

"A fellow right behind me pulled himself up on the luggage rack and shoved his feet through the window. He went through first and I followed him. My head was practically under water before I got out and right after that the bus was full of water."

Polygamy 'Trial' Set at Creston

VANCOUVER (CP) — More than 10 persons in Creston Valley will be "tried" by elders of the Mormon church in connection with charges of polygamy, an official said Friday.

Garth Rynhart, head of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in western B.C., said R. Scott Zimmerman of Edmonton, leader of the church in Western Canada, would conduct the trials at Creston.

Mr. Rynhart's statement followed police action earlier this week in Short Creek, Arizona, where 33 Mormon men and seven women were arrested on polygamy charges.

There have been reports, denied by immigration officials, that some members of the Arizona community are headed for Creston Valley.

It was not known when the reported church trial would begin.

Civil Servants Rejoice in Long Week End

Civil servants by the hundreds poured out of provincial government offices in Victoria at 5 p.m. Friday, ready to take off for the first two-day week-end brought about by their switch to a five-day week. About half the government's 10,000 employees gain the extra day off, at the expense of longer working days. Only a few government offices will be open Saturday. Getting away for a two-day rest here are Sheila Warren, Barbara Warren, Joane Painter, Gloria Bodell and Louise Fry.

Dream Unachieved, Senator Taft Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Senator Robert Alphonso Taft, who guided the Republican party for years but never won its command, died quietly Friday, victim of relentless cancer that ravaged like wildfire. He was 63.

New York Hospital said he wasn't aware of any illness until three months ago when his legs began to bother him. Death was due to "wide-spread, highly malignant, rapidly growing tumors."

His four sons were by his side when death came at 11:30 a.m. EDT. The Republican senator from Ohio had been in a coma and dying for about 13 hours. The hospital said death was quiet and painless.

Mrs. Martha Taft, the senator's wife, remained in Washington, confined to a wheel chair since a stroke. She was flown to New York Tuesday when Taft first took a turn for the worse. She returned to the capital the next day.

SON OF PRESIDENT

Taft was the son of the 27th president of the United States, William Howard Taft. His consuming ambition was to return to the White House as president in his own right.

Four times over a period of 16 years, he sought the Republican presidential nomination. He finally gave up a year ago after President Eisenhower defeated him on the first convention ballot.

Taft was three times senator from his native Ohio. He was one of the sponsors of the controversial Taft-Hartley labor law.

His greatest area of influence was in the Senate, where six months ago he became majority leader under the first Republican president in 20 years. His illness forced him to turn over the duties several weeks ago to Senator William Knowland (R., Calif.) now acting majority leader.

Taft had been counted on to guide President Eisenhower's progam through a Senate where the margin of Republican control was never more than one vote.

Also, he was counted on to help keep a precarious balance in a Republican party that left for Taft's own sense of party loyalty, might have been split asunder by Eisenhower's 1952 nomination.

At the end, Taft had risen to a position of great party power, if not command. An acknowledged Republican spokesman in the Senate on domestic affairs, he took over foreign policy leadership in the Upper House when Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R., Mich.) died in 1951.

Theoretically, Taft's death could cost the Republicans control of the Senate. Governor Frank J. Lausche of Ohio is a Democrat and presumably will name a fellow Democrat to succeed Taft.

However, Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, the former Republican who turned Senate Independent, said he will vote Republican, thus assuring the party's continued control of Senate committees.

Sen. John W. Bricker, Ohio's second senator urged the Ohio legislature to change the state election laws so that a successor to Taft could be elected this fall.

The Republican controlled general assembly, originally scheduled to wind up its current session Friday, decided to postpone such action a week while legislative leaders decided what to do about holding an election this year.

Instead of considering the 13 measures the governor vetoed, the legislature also postponed that action Friday, merely holding a memorial service for Taft.

Governor Lausche said he would not appoint a successor to Taft before Congress adjourns within a few days. It will not sit again until January.

Faulty Engine Saves 20 Men

SAIGON, Indo-China (AP) — Engine trouble foiled what was apparently a plot to assassinate 20 French Army officers at Hanoi Thursday.

The plane with the officers aboard was ready to take off when an engine acted up. While the mechanics were at work an explosion in the cabin blew the plane in two.

UN Takes Over 44-Year-Old 'Millionth Map' Project

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations has taken over the job of filling out one of the biggest jigsaw puzzles in the world — pushing to completion a 44-year-old project for producing the "millionth map" of the world.

UN administration of the project promises to speed up the work begun in 1909, but interrupted by two wars. The UN itself will not produce the map, although it has turned out more than 500 maps during its brief existence and has an excellent map library.

Under the original plan of completing a detailed world map on a scale of about 16 miles to the inch, the actual preparation and publication of the sheets are the responsibility of the country or countries concerned. It is called the "millionth map" because it is on a scale of 1 to 1,000,000.

The UN will only make sure that each country responsible for its own area follows international specifications on colors, lettering, spelling, standardizing names and showing things like contours and lakes.

Nearly 1,000 separate sheets to cover the land areas of the world are involved in the long-term international project. Until this year direction of the project was in the hands of a central bureau set up in 1913. The bureau reported last year that about 400 sheets have been completed, but that many of them must be brought up to date.

Paradoxically, the U.S., one of the best road-mapped countries in the world, provides one of the biggest blank spaces in the world map, matched only by Russia, Canada, Australia, Alaska, and several small areas in central Africa.

Out of 32 map sheets for which the U.S. would be responsible, only 18 have been completed and reported to the central bureau and the UN. The entire West Coast is now mapped according to the millionth map standard, as well as part of the East coast, two areas near the Great Lakes, and three areas in Texas.

Most of Europe, Latin America and North Africa were mapped before 1908 according to the millionth map standard but these sheets will need important revisions.

A map starts going out of date the day it is published, UN map authorities say.

Latin America is almost completely mapped through work done both before and after 1938.

UN map department experts dealing with the new millionth map problems carefully won't say that Russian areas aren't mapped.

"All we know is that the completion of such map sheets has never been reported to the central bureau or to us," said one official. He refused to speculate on why the Russians have held back.

But one thing is certain: the Russians will continue to keep their part of the world a big blank spot in the jigsaw. They served formal notice in the UN Economic and Social Council that they won't co-operate in the map project because, they said, the UN should not be in the map business or engage in academic research not specified in the UN charter.

The U.S. reason for the big blank spot is two-fold: there is a profusion of good maps in the U.S. for most areas, although they may not conform to the 1-to-1,000,000 scale or other millionth map standards, and there has been some doubt in Washington whether the project would be continued.

The Canadian lag is bound up with the desire of making one sheet do the work of two in the areas where parallels of longitude narrow as they near the North Pole. The map standards have to be revised officially to let them do that.

HISTORY may call this the age of the American Inquisition.

In the United States, the political opinions of everyone from college professors to Hollywood extras are being probed in detail. Thousands of American citizens, none of whom stand charged with any crime, find themselves torn in the rack of public enquiry and the thumbscrews of ridicule and hatred.

Clergymen—not all clergymen, but some—are now having their day in the Congressional dungeon. The question aimed at them is the usual one: "Are you now or have you ever been a member of the Communist party?"

Some clergymen may have been Communists, and some may be Communists now. However, their numbers could probably be counted on the fingers of one hand. Materialism and Christianity do not go together.

If the American Inquisition is a good thing, there is no reason why clergymen, as much as anyone else, should not be subjected to it. But I contend that the American Inquisition is a bad thing.

Some people say that the Americans in their fever to investigate people, have only made themselves absurd. I can't agree with that. There is a time to laugh, and a time to be serious. The Inquisition is getting out of hand.

Suppose a real Communist is called before a committee and asked the usual question. He will lie if it suits him, because a real Communist will do anything to gain his ends. Likely as not the real Communist will wriggle out of the trap and the innocent will be caught.

* * *

In the black 1930s our industrial machine seemed to have broken down. For millions of people it failed to provide jobs and food. Who can blame those who cast around for a system that would work when our system failed? Some became Communists then. They have since seen the Red state for what it is—a cruel tyranny. Must they be exposed to public shame for an old mistake in judgment?

Others supported Soviet causes when Russia was our ally. It was the approved thing to do at the time. Now the memory of such support is the kiss of death.

America is a long way from the jackboot and the secret police knocking by night. Yet she suffers some lesser evils: public servants hurting and killing the characters of citizens without due process of law, depriving those citizens of the respect of neighbors, and often of livelihood.

Fear and lack of positive political faith is causing the United States to lash out blindly. To think objectively means to be suspect. The light in the Statue of Liberty's torch flickers a little. A new spirit of intolerance is on the march. Let us hope it never crosses the Canadian border.

TAIPEH, Formosa (Reuters)—Admiral Felix Stump, commander-in-chief of the United States Pacific Fleet, Friday attended a joint Chinese Nationalist-United States military conference here. The subjects discussed were not disclosed.

Voting PC Like Frying-Pan to Fire, Audain Tells Social Credit Meeting

To vote Conservative would be no better than jumping from the fat into the frying pan, and Liberal cocksureness has contributed to waste and careless, James Audain told a Social Credit meeting, Friday night.

Only other alternative would [illegible] which probably would turn to state control, he said in support of 'Esquimalt-Saanich Socred candidate James Roberts.

Contrary to opposition party reports, Mr. Audain declared, a Social Credit government in Ottawa would not change financial laws overnight. Purchasing power and production by the people would go hand-in-hand under Social Credit, he said.

THEME OF HUMILITY

"The movement doesn't believe it has a monopoly on 'Godliness.' To think such is a detriment to 'our theme of humility,' he said.

Mr. Roberts said government is serious big business and "it's about time those supposedly governing should get down to serious business."

"I won't say they're dishonest, but they could have done better," Mr. Roberts said.

Social Credit wasn't pulled [illegible] sound thinking men. Add a touch of honesty and integrity and there is a sound base, he continued.

Mr. Roberts described extensive expensive advertising by the government as "kidding you to tell how honest they've been. If they have been there's no need to tell it," he added.

WASTEFUL PROJECTS

Speaking of what he said were wasteful projects Mr. Roberts note d the Rocky Point project, where the contractor had let a subcontract to "another good Liberal" who is sending ready mix cement from [illegible] water at the project to mix the material.

Social Credit would improve housing schemes, help old age pensioners and war pensioners, lessen or abolish interest rates in some cases.

U.S. Cadets Due Here On Saturday

Twenty-five United States Civil Air Patrol Cadets will land at Patricia Bay airport at 10 a.m. Saturday, for a two-day visit here as guests of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets No. 89 Kitsimen Squadron.

They will be housed at HMCS Naden overnight. Soon after its arrival today the group will be inspected at Government House, visit Butchart's Gardens and Thunderbird Park.

Sunday members of the group will visit Shawnigan Lake before leaving by RCAF plane for their U.S. coast homes.

Bids Called For Addition To Lodge

Tenders are being called for additions to the Red Cross Lodge on the Richmond Avenue site of the Veterans' Hospital.

Main work proposed is the extension of the existing canteen in order to provide additional space for the service to veterans.

Estimated cost of the work is $14,000 and drawings and specifications are available to general contractors at the office of James, Polson & Siddall, architects, after noon, Tuesday, August 4.

Theft Charge Substituted

Charges of breaking and entering against Earle McNaughton, of Victoria, were withdrawn and a reduced charge of theft of articles over $25 was laid in city police court Friday morning.

Magistrate H. C. Hall remanded McNaughton to next Tuesday for committal for trial after one charge of theft against him had been heard.

He is charged with robbing Janet Wilson of the Lenoir Apartments, Cook and Richardson, of goods exceeding the value of $25.

Word Received in City Of Air Officer's Death

Word of the death of her son, Flying Officer Eric Ian Coward, RCAF, in an aircraft accident Thursday at Penhold, Alta., has been received by Mrs. L. B. Robinson, 2414 Epworth Street. The young pilot was 22.

Born in Regina, FO Coward was a graduate of Central Collegiate of that city, at which he was a member of the Collegiate Air Cadet squadron.

He joined the RCAF in 1951 and received his wings at Claresholm, Alta., the following year. While at Claresholm he was also a member of the RCAF pipe band.

For the past three months he had been acting as a flying instructor at the Penhold station.

FO Coward was a popular and capable instructor, with great enthusiasm for his chosen career. His death cuts short a future of much promise.

Funeral services will take place at Regina, where interment will be made in the Soldiers' Plot of the Municipal Cemetery, where his father, the late Arnold B. Coward, is buried.

Dinner Set For Coldwell

Before the meeting in the Sirocco Monday, M. J. Coldwell will be entertained at dinner by a number of his friends in the CCF.

About 50 people plan to meet the federal CCF leader at the Glenshiel Hotel after his arrival from Nanaimo. Both Victoria federal candidate May Campbell and Esquimalt-Saanich candidate Robert McIntosh will attend.

Garden Notes

Weeds, As Usual, Present Problem

BY M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

Weeds, as ever, are a major problem, and on land occupied by growing crops there is no substitute for the hoe or cultivator.

When the plants are big enough to rise above the weeds, and are in no further danger of weed competition for sun and air, the main thing to watch for is to see that the weeds do not seed.

This means that they must be cut down before they show any sign of flowering, as many of our common weeds can flower and ripen seed as they are dying.

When the weather is dull it is useless merely to hoe the ground and hope that the weeds will die. Under dull showery conditions, it is better to hoe a small patch, uprooting the weeds with the hoe, then take them off last thing before finishing work.

Only when it is hot and sunny can we leave the weeds to be killed by sun and wind.

HOE SHALLOWLY

To make the job more effective, always hoe as shallowly as possible, just scuffling the surface with the dutch hoe.

If the soil should require any deeper stirring, either with a pronged cultivator or a regular hoe, make this a separate operation, after the removal of the weeds, otherwise the weeds will just be transplanted, and will grow more vigorously than ever.

After finding it the time to apply well-rotted manure to strawberries to build up the crowns for next year's fruit. Lightly prick up the surface of the soil around and between the plants, removing weeds at the same time.

Do not cultivate deeply, a mere breaking of the surface is sufficient. If no mulch is available, a good substitute dressing to equal parts of fish meal and bone meal with one good handful to each plant. Try to use only organic fertilizers for strawberries.

The dwarf single dahlias of the Collerette Group type soon run down before they show any sign of coming to an end of their flowering if allowed to form seed heads but if their faded flowers are picked off promptly their blossoming period will go on and on until frost. The same is true of Helenniums and several other border plants.

Wallflower seedlings for fall planting should be moved now from their seed rows to nursery beds, spacing the plants nine inches apart. If you followed my advice last spring when you cleared the spring flowering beds and threw the uprooted plants of forget me not under a shrub to ripen and shed their seed, you'll find hundreds of little forget me not seedlings there now.

These too, should be moved into a nursery bed, along with double daisies, and set in six inches apart to make compact and well-rooted plants for setting out in October.

Officer Will Stand Trial On Charge of Scrap Theft

CAMP SHILO, Man. (CP)—Capt. Martin F. Smith, 34, of Waterboro, Ont., ordnance officer at Camp Shilo in 1952, was committed Friday for jury trial following preliminary hearing on charges of theft in connection with disposal of $30,000 worth of scrap metal at the military camp.

A Brandon scrap dealer was named as the alleged receiver of a large quantity of brass shells unaccounted for at the camp.

Smith was arrested at Regina last week following an army-RCMP investigation into suspected irregularities.

Staff Sgt. Douglas Morley of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps Friday testified he was ammunition examiner and NCO in charge of the ammunition magazine at Shilo up to May, 1952.

He said Smith had told him he (Smith) was "desperately short of cash."

The staff sergeant said Smith offered to cut him in on a deal with the Manitoba Hide and Fur Company of Brandon, but "I told him 'no'."

"If he wanted to sell brass it was his funeral."

Smith allegedly told him that a deal had been made for Manitoba Hide to make a bid for the brass, using a figure so attrac

Sergeant Morley said a tender was awarded to the Brandon company and the firm took 20,000 pounds of brass authorized by the Crown Assets Corporation sales order and also an additional 20,000 to 30,000 pounds on Smith's instructions.

Other witnesses called at the preliminary hearing outlined the accounting system used at the ammunition magazine.

An officer who took an audit in August, 1952, said he had found a shortage of 151,514 pounds of brass.

Wheat Pact Going into Effect With Britain Big Question

LONDON (CP)—The new International Wheat Agreement goes into effect Saturday with Britain, the world's largest importer, on the outside.

Nobody here professes to know what will happen now, but obviously the British government hopes that over the three-year life of the agreement private traders will be able to buy wheat at least as cheaply outside the pact as within it.

Britain declined to sign on the ground that the maximum price set under the new agreement at $2.05 a bushel was too high. She would have signed for five cents a bushel less, though she felt even that an unrealistic price.

As seen here the real test now opening is between Britain's bargaining power as the largest wheat buyer and the price-support program of the United States, which is contended to have kept wheat at a falsely high price at a time of abundant harvests.

Some British officials say privately that Canada, one of the big exporters, would have been willing to settle for a maximum agreement price as low as $1.96. But American officials, it is said, refused to go lower than $2.05.

A factor in Britain's favor is that the world wheat carry-over at the end of the 1952-53 season totaled 1,304,000,000 bushels, including 430,000,000 bushels in Canada.

What if Yes-Men Said No?

Supreme Soviet Could Crush Malenkov

LONDON (Reuters)—This is a fantasy based on what could happen if the 1,300 yes-men meeting in the Kremlin next Wednesday decided to say "no."

The Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R., which will meet in the big Kremlin palace overlooking the Moscow River, is theoretically the supreme body of the Soviet peoples, the highest organ of state power.

The 1,300 delegates are likely, under Premier Georgi Malenkov, to perform as usual their old function of rubber-stamping decrees and decisions.

But theoretically, they could take steps to turn Russia into a democracy as it is understood in the West.

Again, theoretically, they could throw out Malenkov and vote in any successor a majority of them agreed on.

Impossible? Yet many basic principles of democracy are written into the Soviet constitution among them freedom of speech, press and assembly. It all depends on how you interpret them.

Another link in the Supreme Soviet is another principle. The ruling Communist party has never had any problem lining up a majority there; all the delegates were elected on a straight Stalin ticket with no opposition.

Technically, the Supreme Soviet appoints and dismisses the cabinet, including the prime minister. Back in March, after Stalin's death, they unanimously endorsed Malenkov.

But at that time they also en

Kite Starts Grass Fire

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP)—Firemen blamed a kite for starting a grass fire that threatened homes here Thursday night. The kite's metal tail struck power lines, became red-hot and fell into some grass. The grass caught fire and burned a quarter-acre before firemen got it under control.

Einstein Equations Brought to Solution

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—A Czech refugee mathematician has come up with the "next-to-impossible" solutions of Albert Einstein's latest theory of the universe.

Until experiments provide actual tests, Prof. Vaclav Hlavaty of Indiana University is not fully ready to accept Einstein's theory that the universe is well-ordered.

But, if Einstein is right, Hlavaty said his complicated mathematical spadework will prove that electro-magnetism rules the universe, the basis of all matter, energy and gravity.

Most atomic scientists believe in the quantum theory that everything is based on chance. Einstein, when he proposed his unified field theory three years ago, said: "I cannot believe that God plays dice with the cosmos."

Einstein said the mathematical equations of his new theory were "gropings in the dark." He had no solution for them himself, and the Austrian scientist Schroedinger said the solutions would be "next to impossible."

Hlavaty, who began applying his mathematics to physics problems only three years ago, arrived at his solutions with equations involving 64 unknown quantities. A colleague said the problems were so involved they were far beyond the capacity of mechanical brain machines.

Both Einstein and Schrodinger have commended Hlavaty on his accomplishment.

Hlavaty considers his mathematical work on the cosmic theories unfinished. He said further work needs to be done before his solutions may be compared with results of physics experiments, and he added:

"The crucial experiment has yet to be devised."

Armed Forces Go to Polls Week Ahead of Civilians

OTTAWA (CP)—The armed forces at home and abroad go to the polls Monday, getting a week's jump on other Canadians, who won't cast their ballots in the federal election until August 10.

About 105,000 men and women in uniform in Europe, the Far East and Canada are eligible. Their votes, cast for the candidate of their choice in the riding where they have permanent residence, will be counted August 17.

Special civilian returning officers, aided by liaison officers from the three armed services, have their election machinery geared to handle the vote in Edmonton, Ottawa and Halifax in Canada; Kure in Japan and London, England. Kure takes the votes of troops in the Far East, and London those in the United Kingdom and Europe.

The vote from overseas will be the hardest to handle. In Europe, there are Canadians serving in France, Germany and Britain, and some may be traveling elsewhere on the continent. In the Far East there are Canadians in Japan and Korea.

The special returning officers will count the vote and forward the result. The votes come to them inside two sealed envelopes. The inner envelope contains the soldier's ballot, marked by him and sealed in secret. The outer envelope is airmailed personally by the voter.

The difficulties of conducting an election by mail are great. For example, about half the 5,000-man 27th Canadian Infantry Brigade in Germany will be on manoeuvres away from the Hanover base. That means special polls must be set up in the field.

Polls for servicemen will all be open three hours a day between August 3 and August 8.

The number of voters eligible overseas is estimated at about 20,000, considerably higher than the "handful" who cast ballots overseas in the 1949 election.

In 1945, there were 174,589 votes cast overseas.

Next-of-kin of Canada's 18 servicemen taken prisoner of war in Korea may exercise their right to cast an extra vote as proxy for the absent men.

Several hundred 16-year-old apprentices in the army, navy and air force will also get a vote for the first time. The law says all members of the active armed forces are entitled to vote, and that includes the apprentices.

Oddity

ROSCOW, N.Y. (AP) — A woman's laugh apparently prevented a bank holdup in this Catskill mountain resort village.

Mrs. Winifred Dette, a teller, told police that a young man walked into the bank, put a black lunch box on the shelf in front of her and pushed a note through her teller's window.

She reported the note read: "Fill this with money. Don't say anything."

Mrs. Dette said she laughed and handed back the note, telling the man: "Go away. You're fooling."

The man turned around and left, she said.

'Enemies of the People'

RATHER a telltale little phrase has crept into Soviet Russian announcements of late in reference to the "enemies of the people." Fechter, the East German Communist official who did not stamp out the food strikes quickly enough, was demoted as "an enemy of the people." East Germans who accepted food from the west were cited as "siding with enemies of the people," and so forth. The phrase belongs to that phase of a revolution which has begun to denounce whatever may be nearest and handiest in order to exculpate its leaders. Thus East Berlin has lost a Fechter, and is given a "Red Hilde" to put down strikes.

So it goes with the little bosses of a revolution in never stationary stages. Stalin's death left three men within reach of his undeclared throne. Beria, the head of the secret police, has been removed after being made the scapegoat for nearly everything that could be pinned on him in that roll. He encouraged, it was said at one point, "the enemies of the people." The people, it appears, are not mollified. Disturbances have continued to grow in Soviet Russia and in the satellite lands. The announced policy of modification and leniency did not stop work stoppages and more latterly food riots. These events have taken the foreground, but what is happening in the back?

Two men remain now within striking distance, and that term fits like a glove, of Stalin's power. One, Molotov, is seldom heard of in the current dispatches of the day. The other, Malenkov, is more in the limelight. There may not, eventually, be room for both of them. Nobody outside of Russia knows perhaps just what is going on, but the play and counterplay of a grimly submerged tussle for leadership each day is becoming more visible. Malenkov, it is said now, has sought the help of three generals, popular war heroes, in an effort to hold the confidence of the people. The counter move to that has yet to appear, but it will. No revolution can stand still for long.

Problem for Civil Defense

AN arresting object lesson in the problem of moving any unusually large volume of automobile traffic in one general direction along the network of narrow roads north of Victoria was furnished on Thursday night. The occasion was the Victoria Symphony Orchestra's evening concert in Butchart Gardens, and the number of cars pointed in that direction is said to have been the largest in the city's history. So also was the resultant traffic tie-up.

Because of the fact that a substantial proportion of the would-be audience never reached the gardens at all, and so could not be tallied, no estimate is available of the total number of cars which packed all roads leading there, but it was more than enough to make the best efforts of special traffic police unavailing to clear the blockages. Many cars are reported to have spent more than two hours inching forward, only to be turned back after it had become pointless to try to complete the journey.

Without wishing them any discomfort, it is to be hoped that some of Victoria's leading civil defense officials were among those caught in this traffic jam, because it would have given them a striking illustration of what they would have to contend with if ever the south end of the Island had to be evacuated. Although the volume of traffic attempting to reach Butchart Bardens was exceptional, it could have amounted to only a small fraction of Greater Victoria's total car population. What if many times that number had all been trying to reach the Island Highway?

Admittedly movement along tributary roads on Thursday night was restricted by the circumstance that all led eventually into a single narrow road approaching the destination. But a general northward exodus from Victoria would result in a similar, though many times worse, situation because the Island Highway likewise is the single artery into which all traffic in that event would have to be crammed.

Civil defense authorities here have made an extensive study of traffic problems which any emergency might create, but it is doubtful if, lacking a demonstration such as this, even they could have a clear picture of the magnitude of the problem. Obviously this is an aspect of civil defense which calls for the most elaborate planning, plus training of the many special police who would be needed to control the innumerable intersections where tie-ups could paralyze the process of evacuation.

Tampering with Private Mail

SO far as we are aware it is the duty of the post office to accept legitimate mail and forward it without tampering to its destination. Where it suspects that the contents violate postal laws the department has the authority to open and examine mail and take appropriate action should its suspicions be confirmed. That is all. Nowhere that we know of has the post office been given power to interfere otherwise with private mail.

Yet that is what is happening here in Victoria. We have before us an envelope addressed from New York to a resident of this city. It was mailed unsealed. When the recipient received the envelope at his home he found that campaign literature urging the election of a certain Victoria candidate had been inserted into the envelope. How does such interference come about and by whose authority?

This unwarranted intrusion into an individual's private affairs, by a department whose specific duty is to guard the integrity of the mails, calls for an immediate explanation. The interference could only have occurred at this end, and with the knowledge and assistance of postal officials in Victoria.

Matters have come to a pretty pass when a government department consents to a grave breach of the regulations that are in its charge. Apart from this it is downright unadulterated invasion of a citizen's rights to either add to or subtract from the contents of any legitimate package entrusted to the Royal Mail. How many candidates on whose behalf this interference is taking place we do not know, nor does that matter. The post office has no right whatsoever to permit any tampering with material in its hands. Who is responsible for this impropriety?

DEFENSE EXPENDITURES

Sir,—As a taxpayer I am simply staggered at the revelations documented in the Currie and other reports. General Pearkes, in his equally exciting "squandermania" expose, quotes a few examples of the fabulous sums spent with an utter abandon on national defense projects.

The cascade of many leaks in the national exchequer has bourgeoned into a Niagara of prodigality that has shocked the nation and discredited the administration. This is the testimony of the Currie, the McNab and auditor-general's reports, therefore true beyond peradventure.

The figures don't lie, but the Liberal government is making ridiculous contortions to gloss over them. Victoria voters should voice their protest against such a betrayal of public trust by voting for James George, on August 10.

R. C. FRY,

526 Admirals Road, Victoria, B.C.

PENSION PLAN CITED

Sir,—Our war veterans have repeatedly appealed to Ottawa for some recognition of their rights and have as often been given what is practically the brush off.

At the time when wages were frozen the MPs avidly grabbed for themselves a $2,000 income-tax-free increase in expenses. This act sparked the vicious circle which has plagued our country ever since and which has to a large extent wiped out our trade with the British Empire.

Now that they had provided for their own comfort, did the members turn in pity to the prematurely aged war veterans, whose earnings they had restricted and treat them as munificently? Can greed blot out all sense of shame? The opposition and the government were equally to blame, as there was not one voice raised in protest.

The "Who is going to stop us" attitude is continued in the handsome pension the MPs have voted themselves. This masterpiece was concocted by one Bona Arsenault (Lib., Que.). Of the 200-odd members in Ottawa when the vote was taken, only Davie Fulton and Howard Green, both PCs of B.C., condemned the substance of the bill.

No one would object to a reasonable scheme, but when a person, by contributing only $4,080 can retire at 40 or younger as there is no floor age, and receive a pension of $3,000 a year for life, it is pretty rough on the taxpayer. In the past it has cost an average of approximately $10,000 for a candidate to win an election. Knowing the stipend previously, is it for the prestige only that a person is willing to make such a large expenditure?

WINIFRED COLLIS.

OIL PRICE INCREASE

Sir,—May I add my protest to the others that are complaining of the surly treatment served the consumers, each time the price of oil is raised.

From March 3 to March 24 the price jumped from 20 cents to 22.4 cents per gallon. No warning, it was just raised. Again this month, July, from the 7th to the 28th, the price went up from 22.4 cents to 23 cents, without warning. Then there is the ¼ cent per gallon tax on top of that for stove oil.

To me it looks as though they are hurrying to put prices up, in case business becomes depressed; then can lower the prices a little but still make tremendous profits. All expenses must be passed on to the consumer, even for expansion in new oil fields and keep the dividends up, is the modern trend of business operations. What happened to the policy of reserve funds for expansion?

Fish and Fur

By FRANK KELLEY

WITH editorial offices in Seattle and published at Los Angeles, Pacific Fisherman has been for a long time now a leading medium of news pertinent to the Pacific coast fishing industry. Max Lohbrunner—one-time seal hunter during days before the treaty of 1910 put what was then left of the sealing fleet out of business, and for many years since that time identified with commercial fishing in B.C. waters—recently brought me a copy of the July issue in which were two articles he considered would be of interest to anyone connected with fishing pursuits between California and Alaska.

One of the articles was entitled "The Japanese Are Back Again," the other "Japanese Canning Salmon on High Seas This Year." One shows a picture of the Tohei Maru, Japanese "mother" ship and her auxiliary craft taken from the deck of a U.S. trawler about 12 miles from Port Moller; the other pictures a Japanese trawler in the same area. The stories relate that the expected pack of one concern, Nichiro Gyogyo Kaisha, according to its prospectus, should total 9,416,000 pounds of salmon in 1953. The expedition, according to the same source, comprised 43 vessels—one mother ship, four freighters, 34 self-navigating drift-netters and four "investigating" boats.

* * *

An authority on the marine life of the North Pacific, including both fish and sea-going fur animals, Max Lohbrunner is always interested and ever zealous concerning what could happen to either almon or seals. So he feels the salmon and crab fishing ventures referred to, while fish are a big factor in the Japanese over-all economy, will provide a screen for the taking of many seal-skins between the months of May and July. At the same time he admits that the high seas beyond the three-mile limit from the land are international water and anybody's fishing ground.

It was agreed that this was so when the sealing treaty was negotiated by Great Britain, the United States, Japan and Russia to prohibit pelagic sealing. That is why Canada was awarded 15 per cent from the annual receipts obtained for the pelts taken on the Pribilofs, and why Japan and Russia were also reimbursed for the abandonment of an established industry; but when Japan allied herself with Germany in the Second World War her share of seal-skins was not paid. Then the United States and Canada made a treaty through which Canada obtained an additional 5 per cent, or 20 per cent in all.

* * *

Considering all the circumstances, that so-called secret treaty was probably sensible business; but what folk in the know cannot understand is why the Canadian government continues to ignore the equity of the men who nurtured the sealing industry and made possible the millions of dollars Canada has received since 1910—Mr. Lohbrunner says "billions." Surely the heirs of the men who lost livelihood and investments especially are entitled to some consideration, a consideration, I am told, the late Mackenzie King personally promised some local claimants at one time.

One gathers Mr. Lohbrunner is somewhat obsessed regarding the possibility that the Japanese, not being a party to the treaty now, will send their long-range fishing vessels into our coastal waters and seal until the herds are practically annihilated—which might not be an unmixed blessing in his book; for those migrating seal herds, he contends, take a prodigious toll of salmon and other food fish every year as they move north along the edge of the continental shelf to the Pribilof Islands in Bering Sea.

Reports from Ottawa

THE Conservatives appear likely to pick up strength in the Maritimes August 10, measured in terms of seats in parliament, and nowhere do their prospects seem brighter than in the old Loyalist province of New Brunswick.

One reason is that a political landslide swept the Liberals out of office there last year — Liberals who'd been in power for the same length of time as those at Ottawa — and installed the only Conservative government outside of Ontario.

However, first-hand observation of the New Brunswick political scene convinces me that the Conservatives are overly optimistic in predicting they'll take seven of the province's 10 seats in the Commons. A five-and-five split is more likely.

In the 1949 election the Grits took eight and the Tories two. Then last year Albany Robichaud—as much a French Canadian nationalist as a Conservative—unexpectedly won a by-election in the traditionally Liberal riding of Gloucester to make the Tory total three.

* * *

Robichaud, a brilliant but rash and unreliable man, may conceivably lose his seat, for the counties which make up his riding swung Liberal in the provincial election. But the Tories still have their two "safe" seats of Royal and Victoria-Carleton.

In addition, they appear to have very good chances of defeating Labor Minister Gregg in York-Sunbury, A. W. Stuart in Charlotte, and the new Grit candidate in Westmorland, Henry Murphy.

Gregg, a weak campaigner, is opposed by one of the sharpest politicians in the province—Ewart C. Atkinson, lawyer, entrepreneur and promoter, who lost to Gregg in 1949 by only 1,000 votes.

Wes Stuart, the dauntless free trader who bragged in the Commons that he habitually smuggled goods into Canada after every visit to the United States, is seeking re-election in Charlotte. Many of Stuart's supporters in that border constituency are not above sliding things across the line behind the back of H.M. Customs, and after Stuart's statement in the Commons, the customs inspectors became much more vigilant.

Voters who resent this result of Stuart's speechmaking in parliament could easily tip the scale against him. He won in 1945 by only 30 votes. In 1949 his majority was but 58 over Conservative Hardy Ganong of the chocolate family, who is opposing him again this election.

* * *

In Westmorland the Grits dumped their sitting member, Col. Eddie George. You'll remember that last spring Carl Nickle (PC, Calgary West) accused George in the Commons of having received more days' pay from the government—as MP and as reserve army colonel—than there were days in the year. George fought his ouster in the Liberal convention, and thereby weakened the organization on which the new candidate, Murphy, is depending to defeat Tory W. G. Stewart.

Restigouche-Madawaska, a riding along the Quebec border, also is rent with dissention. P. L. Dube, an independent Liberal who won it in a 1949 by-election, was defeated for the Liberal nomination by Gaspard Boucher, former provincial secretary. Dube is seeking re-election as an independent Liberal. This split in the Liberal vote will benefit Dillion Arseneau, the youthful PC contestant.

The Tories' over-all hopes in the Maritimes are seven seats in N.B., seven in Nova Scotia, three in Prince Edward Island and two in Newfoundland. That's a total of 19, up nine from the 10 they held in the last parliament. But right now it looks as though their hopes will be only partly realized on election day.

Missing the Point

(From The London Free Press)

HOW readily we become slaves to a slogan and victims of emotional tides. When Hitler burned books during the war there was a tremendous revulsion in the Western world. The idea that a book should be burned became with us a symbol of ruthless, stupid and ignorant autocracy.

At the present time the United States government is enmeshed in a discussion on the burning of books written by Communists and displayed in U.S. libraries overseas. The state department revised its policy on these books and one of the sentences reads: "Burning of books is a wicked symbolical act. From now on those books weeded out . . . will be disposed of by other methods."

The whole point of Hitler's act has been missed. It was not the burning of the books so much as the preventing of people reading the books that mattered. The books could all be duplicated and reprinted. Those books which are to be "disposed of by other methods" might as well have been burned. The flames have been avoided but a fundamental freedom has been abridged.

"It's got to where one word rings like an anvil in my ears," the vinegar-faced man told his friend. "Work, work, work! It's all I hear about at home, day and night, week after week. I'm tired of it—tired of the thought and the word—work!"

"How long have you been on this job?" the sympathetic friend inquired.

"I start on it tomorrow," was the gloomy reply.

The Pa sack

OF GREGORY ARK

THE backfire of a passing motor car woke me at 6 a.m. the other day, so I decided to get up and get myself some breakfast and sit around until time to dress. As a matter of routine, I went over and turned on the radio.

Out came the [illegible] he was making jokes. At that hour of the morning, before the sun had caught all the chimneys and even some of the trees were still in dawn's shadow, he was not only telling jokes, but was laughing at them. When even the morning glories of the fence were too hot and tired, after a sleepless night, to lift their heads and open their bells, this character was whooping and hollering with a zest that was horrible. I stood quivering in the middle of the living room, and sneered when he uttered his punch line. I was glad when he turned on a recording, even if it was jazz.

What sort of man is it who can joke at 6 a.m.? At 9 a.m. it is all very well to work up a little smile for your fellow workers; not too much, just a little widening of the closed lips. In fact, at 8.30 a.m., if the bus or street car is not too crowded, it is perfectly normal to utter some small pleasantry to the bus driver or the motorman, as you board the vehicle. If you see somebody you know among the passengers, there is no great harm in nodding to him with a show of cheeriness, while observing, of course, the decencies by not trying to sit beside him.

That is the healthy, normal way of life, as demonstrated by hundreds of thousands of us every day of our lives. So what of all this whooping and hurrawing over the radio at 6 a.m., these jokes, quips, pleasantries, witticisms, drolleries? I am told by people who know that this has been going on for years on the radio. What is more, I am informed that a very large public, who have to get up early, follow these jokers faithfully every day of their lives; and that it is not unknown for people to get up early for no other reason that to tune them in.

A lot of strange new disruptive things are going on in the world these days. Forces are loose which are gnawing at the very roots, not of our social structure, but of human nature itself. Jokes at 6 a.m. must be one of the most revolutionary.

Farewell To Touring

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THIS is written at the conclusion of an automobile tour which began in New York City and proceeded over 5,000 miles of highways through the North Central States, the Northwest and down the coast. I have done the equivalent of this trip 10 times since the end of the war in 1945. Altogether I have metered 120,000 miles.

In those seven years private enterprise and government have done a lot. Automobiles have improved in power and manageability, tires in durability, fuel selling in efficiency and the highways in breadth and smoothness.

I only wish that the habits, manners and judgment of those who use those facilities had shown improvement, too. It is the abiding sin of human nature to seize upon its own achievements to display an insensate capacity for selfish, capricious destruction. The race is always between construction and destruction.

The joys of touring are abundant. The early rising in comfortable quarters, the good food in accessible restaurants, the keen morning air, the smooth highways, the matchless variation of scenery and the countryside, the friendly people at the gas stations—all these should make touring the best of all forms of recreation.

But perils and tragedy increase as fast as the means of safety are created. Curiously it seems that the craziest drivers are men and women who are carrying the most children with them. I have in my memory a long succession of visions of whizzing cars with from two to five little heads bobbing beside the empty skulls of father and mother. Wherever the roads have been built most carefully for comfort and safety such drivers create the maximum dangers.

One of them on a treacherous mountain road decided on a downgrade to pass a huge oil truck. To the right of another driver who was going upgrade was a chasm a thousand feet deep. Only here and there, three or four feet of safety had been built at the side of the highway. It happened in this case that the unfortunate innocent was able to pull onto one of these. That was his luck, not the calculation of the lunatic who came toward him. And as the crazy car passed with inches to spare, at least three small heads were in evidence.

And so, with some regret but a keen desire to live a while longer, I pay a long positive farewell to all my touring.

Claxton Says Newspapers Overplay Defense Thefts

MONTREAL (CP)—Defense Minister Claxton Friday night made what he termed an attempt to "put in proper perspective" press reports of charges against service personnel being "played up" in Progressive Conservative newspapers.

In an address recorded for a broadcast over radio station CFCF, Montreal, he described expansion of the Canadian defense establishment in the three years since the outbreak of the Korean war.

He said that in that period the three services made additions to their equipment valued at more than $2,700,000,000. Forces had expanded from 47,000 to 105,000.

"The armed forces and other government agencies," he continued, "do everything possible to prevent loss. When there is fraud or theft it is prosecuted . . . . But when the magnitude of the operation . . . and the speed with which the build-up has occurred is taken into account, I think you will find that the losses have been smaller than those suffered in comparable activities on Civvy Street."

Mr. Claxton said the regular forces of 105,000 "together with their wives and dependents and with the other civilians performing supporting services, would make a city having a population of well over 200,000 people."

In a city of more than 200,000, there would be more than 600 convictions for serious offenses annually. This was "a great many more" than in the armed forces.

In Ottawa, Liberal government policy in defense administration, housing, agriculture and municipal relations were criticized Friday night by a team of four Progressive Conservative speakers—E. D. Fulton, member of the last parliament for Kamloops; George Hees, Toronto Broadview; Gordon Graydon, Peel, and George Nowlan, Annapolis-Kings. Conservative leader George Drew introduced the four.

The speeches were recorded for delivery over the CBC's Trans-Canada Network.

Mr. Fulton renewed Progressive Conservative charges of Liberal inefficiency in defense administration and spoke of his party's pledge, if elected, to cut taxes by $500,000,000.

He said:

"The Liberals, of course, are trying to frighten you with their usual Liberal bogey men and say it (tax reduction) can't be done. . . . But you know that taxes can be reduced just by cutting out the fluff and eliminating inefficiency in all government administration.

"For instance, do you think it is really essential under the heading of defense stockpiling to buy enough naval hat bands to last until 1975 or spend $800,000 on rugs and carpets?

"If there is one thing more certain than any other, it is that you are not going to get tax reductions from a government that says it can't be done."

Mr. Hees reiterated his party's pledge to make it possible for persons with "moderate" incomes to buy their own homes.

There are two main reasons, he said, why Canadians "are building only about half the number of houses they need each year."

The first was the 20-per-cent down payment, which amounted to $2,000 on the cheapest National Housing Administration house. The second was the 20-year period during which NHA loans must be paid off.

He said a Progressive Conservative government would put into operation a housing plan whereby it would be possible to buy a four-room brick house with a $900 down payment and pay off the mortgage at $65 monthly over a 30-year period. It would be possible to buy larger houses proportionately priced.

Mr. Graydon charged the federal government had been riding "piggy-back" on the municipalities by requiring the local bodies to pay sales and excise taxes on their equipment and by exempting federally-owned properties from municipal taxes.

"We propose to end all this when we get in . . . It will mean a very substantial cut in home owners' tax bills in a good many municipalities."

In Cornwall, Ont., Prime Minister St. Laurent Thursday night charged Mr. Drew with "misrepresenting and distorting" the facts of the controversial Currie report.

He also said he is "getting a little tired" of Mr. Drew's repeated charges that Defense Minister Claxton is negligent of his duties.

"Every one in parliament, including Mr. Drew, knows that there has never been a more devoted or hard-working or competent minister than Brooke Claxton," Mr. St. Laurent said.

The Currie report said there was a breakdown in the administration of the defense department's works branch. It gave examples of horses being placed on the payroll at Petawawa military camp; of the theft of steel rails and camp buildings.

Mr. St. Laurent said he had given the facts of the "non-existing" horses to parliament but "even after that Mr. Drew made a broadcast in which he stated that it never had been denied there were horses on the payroll."

Social Credit Tide Held Unstoppable

The Liberal government has no chance whatever of stopping the tide of Social Credit, declared Alderman Waldo Skillings, Socred candidate for Victoria, speaking at Monterey School Friday night.

The 60-odd people who attended the meeting heard speeches from Finance Minister Einar Gunderson, Alderman Don Smith, Mrs. J. R. Pipes, president of the Oak Bay Social Credit women's auxiliary, and Alderman Skillings.

Mr. Gunderson's attendance was unexpected and a crescendo of applause greeted him when he stepped on to the stage.

STORMY OUTBURST

At the question time the Oak Bay Socred rebel, W. A. Scott, was the central figure in a stormy outburst when he arose to question Alderman Skillings.

Alderman Smith said that he had never disagreed with Mr. Skillings on principle. That was the highest compliment he could pay anyone.

"Waldo is a Social Crediter first, second and last. The basic requirement to join our party is to pay your dollar and I took Waldo's money myself."

"I can say without fear of contradiction that Waldo Skillings will be Victoria's federal member after midnight of August 10," he said. "After this election is over the next prime minister of Canada will be a Social Crediter."

Mrs. Pipes described Prime Minister St. Laurent as "prime minister of the Liberal party and not of Canada." She said women had a tremendous power with their vote. There were more women in Canada than men.

She criticized Mr. St. Laurent for saying that B.C. and Alberta were the "Far West." "The prime minister should not have said that. It's not right," she declared.

CRYSTAL CLEAR

Mr. Skillings said it was crystal clear that the Liberals had called a snap election to get the election over as soon as possible and minimize the chances of defeat.

The Liberals had perpetrated an absolute bluff of the public for the past 18 years, he said.

"Liberals have stolen the ideas of the Social Credit party. We suggested most of the legislation that the government has [illegible]."

"When you hear their ridiculous statements remember that they're just propaganda," he declared.

Finance Minister Gunderson said he was going to vote for Alderman Skillings because the candidate was "a Christian gentleman."

At the question period, Ronald Cook asked Alderman Smith if he could clarify the position of Major A. H. Jukes, independent Social Credit candidate for Victoria.

"Major Jukes is representing himself," said the alderman. "His is strictly a minority group. I've never met the gentleman so therefore I cannot criticize him. He has no connection with Social Credit."

At this point Mr. Scott arose to his feet. Jeers and cries of "Sit down! Sit down!" greeted Mr. Scott before he could begin to talk.

"Just a minute," shouted Mr. Scott above the uproar. "I am a Social Crediter too . . ."

"You cannot make a statement Mr. Scott. What is your question?" interrupted Chairman Jerry Cross.

SAME PLATFORM

Mr. Scott asked this question: "Is this a party or a movement? If it is not a party or a movement, why shouldn't Major Jukes stand as a Social Crediter? Would Mr. Skillings be ready to appear on the same platform with Major Jukes?"

"I think that question is rather unfair," began Mr. Skillings. "But I'll say this: Waldo Skillings is not afraid to stand on any platform, at any time, or with any candidate."

"That was the answer I expected," said Mr. Scott.

"I think I'll have to take some advisory counsel on that question," said Mr. Skillings. "I am new at Social Credit."

At this point the chairman ordered "God Save the Queen" and the meeting broke up.

U.S. 'Unreliable' Market

The United States is a most unreliable market for Canada's products, Mrs. May Campbell, CCF federal candidate, stated at a meeting Thursday night.

The market is unreliable, she said, because the United States is a great producer of most of the products Canada sells abroad—grains, meat and dairy produce.

"The more that Canadian trade becomes concentrated in the U.S., the more Canada will be dependent on the States financially," Mrs. Campbell told her audience.

The CCF party urges that Canada have more trade with the sterling areas, she said.

By 1952, the speaker said, the Liberal government's policy of shifting Canadian trade to the United States resulted in exports to the United Kingdom dropping from 40 per cent of the total to 17 per cent, while exports to the United States increased from 30 per cent to 53 per cent.

This happened because Canada did not buy enough from Britain to permit her to buy Canadian goods in return.

Before the war, Canada bought nearly a quarter of all her imports from the United Kingdom, but by 1952, imports from there had dropped off to less than 10 per cent.

Referring to public accounts for 1952, Mrs. Campbell said that purchases from the United Kingdom amounted to $10,462,617; from the U.S., $233,814,576.

To provide sterling areas with more dollars, the CCF party will call for a postponement of payments on the Canadian loan for three years, on the condition that the United Kingdom use the money to buy bacon, apples, and cheese from Canada, said the candidate.

The CCF, she stated, advocates lowering of tariffs and abolishing duties on imports from the sterling areas.

The party also supports the establishment of a world food pool as proposed by the Food and Agricultural Organization and the International Federation of Agricultural Producers.

CCFer Says Capitalism Most Inefficient of All

Private enterprise capitalism is the most inefficient system yet devised, Robert McIntosh, CCF federal candidate for Esquimalt-Saanich, said at a meeting at Shawnigan Friday night.

"There is tremendous waste in capitalist production because there is no planning to meet overall needs," he said.

"It is strange that the business man who insists on efficient planning and management for his private business fails to see the necessity for similar planning of the national economy."

TREMENDOUS WASTE

There is tremendous waste in capitalist production, distribution, and use of manpower, he went on.

"We have stacks of surplus food products and tremendous advertising and credit selling schemes to unload them. Distribution is even more inefficient. It is estimated that 90 per cent of the cost to the consumer is due to high cost of distribution," Mr. McIntosh claimed.

Manpower is wasted in that there is always some unemployed, and thousands of man-hours are tied up in unnecessary advertising, selling, and duplication of services.

Because overall use of capital is not that of planned factories, equipment is not used to best advantage, he said.

"Social Credit monetary policies would see the present 43 cent dollar reduced to 10 cents or less," Mr. McIntosh commented.

"No matter how much money is printed, it will accumulate in the hands of those who control the real wealth of Canada—our great industries and natural resources."

Capitalists, through their control of the wealth, dictate the living standards of the people, he said.

Parley Due On Services

Esquimalt council Monday night will discuss a report on placing services to Greenwood Avenue.

The report was tabled two weeks ago, for study by councillors. Municipal Engineer John Graeme reported that it would cost $29,663 to service 28 undeveloped lots. Cost for each lot, not under local improvement planning, would be about $1,060, he said.

The services would include storm and sanitary sewers, water mains, walks and curbs and lighting.

Tabled indefinitely was a similar report for Hadfield Avenue.

Leading Unionist Charges Wicks Lacking Knowledge, Experience

VANCOUVER (CP)—Labor Minister Lyle Wicks was accused by a leading Canadian Congress of Labor official at Vancouver Friday of having "a complete lack of trade union knowledge and experience."

Charge came from James Bury, secretary of the Vancouver Labor Council (CCL) as executive members of the VLC moved to turn down the labor minister's invitation to a round-table conference on amendments to B.C.'s Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

Mr. Wicks invited three representatives from each of the CCL's three provincial labor councils, the five B.C. labor councils of the Trades and Labor Congress, the independent Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union, and the Native Brotherhood of B.C.

PROPER ORGANIZATION

The VLC said it will inform Mr. Wicks that the proper organization to represent its members at such a meeting is the B.C. Federation of Labor, provincial body of the CCL.

"Surely the minister of labor, a former trade unionist, is aware that the federation deals specifically with matters of legislative concern to our affiliates," the VLC statement said.

Mr. Bury termed Mr. Wicks' action "an example of the Social Credit government's dictatorial and insulting attitude towards organized labor."

And he added, "If the minister persists in calling this meeting on his own impossible terms, he can be certain Canada's two recognized trade union organizations will not be present."

Thursday the rival Vancouver Trades and Labor Council (AFL-TLC) announced it would not attend but said the provincial body of the TLC would be willing to send representatives, provided the Communist-led Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union was not included in the invitation.

Mine-Mill was thrown out of the CCL in 1948 and the TLC secretary, R. K. Gervin, said his group would refuse to sit down with any expelled trade union."

Labor Minister Wicks said he had invited the various labor councils to the meeting because he wanted to get closer to the individual rank-and-file union members.

One Canadian distiller is readying vodka for distribution but none of it will reach the shelves of B.C. Liquor Control Board stores in the near future.

"We're not planning to buy any of it," Commissioner Donald McGugan said Friday. "We've been approached by salesmen but we're not listing any. There's been no demand for it."

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prices showed a firm tone in fairly active trade. Some activity was connected with closing operations in July contracts.

Local trade was affected by firmness of U.S. markets in oats and rye, and reports of the spread of rust in the northwestern states.

Small export interest was featured in barley, connected with the sale of parcel lots of feed barley to the United Kingdom.

Overnight export loadings in wheat included 70,000 bushels to Bolivia; Italy, 370,000; South Africa, 360,000; and small lots to the United Kingdom.

Prices of top grades Class Two wheat were ⅞ higher. IWA and domestic prices were ⅛ lower.

Noted Cleric Dies

The Archbishop of Rupert's Land, the Most Rev. Louis Ralph Sherman, who frequently preached from the pulpit of Christ Church Cathedral here, died Friday at Brandon Hospital, Man., as a result of a cerebral hemorrhage.

"As an energetic and fearless Christian leader he made a great contribution towards the welfare of [illegible] and his passing will be generally mourned," commented Archbishop H. E. Sexton. "It is a grievous loss to the Church of England and Canada."

Archbishop Sherman, 66, was elected archbishop of the metropolitan see of Rupert's Land in 1943, and was in charge of an area covering 28,000 square miles and embracing three Prairie provinces and part of Western Ontario. His "parish" extended as far north as the Arctic circle and included 10 diocese.

RHODES SCHOLAR

He graduated from the University of New Brunswick and Bishop's College, Lennoxville, in 1908 before proceeding as a Canadian Rhodes Scholar to Oxford University where he had a brilliant career.

Archbishop Sherman was ordained by the Bishop of London in 1912 and after serving two curacies in London he became rector of Holy Trinity, Toronto, in 1917.

In 1925 he was appointed dean of Quebec and two years later was consecrated Bishop of Calgary.

For years he strongly advocated a fully self-supported Canadian church. Before an Anglican audience of 10,000 persons at the 1934 General Synod service of witness in Montreal he begged his brother bishops to "sign on the dotted line" with him that night to relinquish monetary grants coming from England.

MET OPPOSITION

Although this plan met considerable opposition, within a decade he saw it successfully adopted without a dissenting voice.

He is survived by his widow and three children, Ralph, Jr. of Winnipeg, Barbara Ann and Joan Patricia. An elder son, Lieut. Lawrence Sherman, was killed in action with the Canadian army in Italy in May, 1943.

Band Concert Will Mark City's Birth

A special band concert at Beacon Hill Park, Sunday, will mark the 91st anniversary of the incorporation of the City of Victoria.

The concert, to be presented at Cameron Memorial Pavilion with James M. Miller conducting, is under the auspices of the Greater Victoria Celebrations Association.

Acting-Mayor Frank G. Mulliner is scheduled to speak and Rudy Hartman will be master of ceremonies.

Included in th program re Sousa's "Triumphal March" and selections from "Roberta," Schubert's "Rosamunde" overture and 'An American Week End."

Vocal solos will be given by Grace Adams and Arthur Stringer. Harold Denike will be saxophone soloist while George Green will be soloist on 'A Trumpeter's Lullaby."

Ninety-four per cent of the 18,000 Protestant missionaries from the United States are evangelists, educators or medical missionaries, according to a report just issued of last year's mission program. The remainder are technical experts, relief and reconstruction workers and business administrators.

The Most Rev. Ildebrando Antoniutti, apostolic delegate to Canada, has announced that the first congress of Roman Catholic religious orders in Canada will be held in Montreal next year.

In the World Of Religion

BY F. GWYNNE LIGHTBOURN

"Princess Margaret at 22 is the victim of match-making spinsters of both sexes." So wrote "Watchman" in the Church of England newspaper (London) stating that "canons of good sense, good taste and good manners are challenged by the publication of newspaper reports linking the name of Princess Margaret with a royal [illegible]."

The columnist further asks "Would any of them (newspaper editors), having a daughter of marriageable age, allow her future to be discussed in the columns of his newspaper?"

The Red Vietminh troops have confiscated the rice fields and other fertile property which are the main source of support for Roman Catholic missionary institutions in over half the area of the Vicariate Apostolic of Thainbinh, and in other districts the taxes imposed have reduced the income by 50 per cent. Three priests of the vicariate have been executed by the Vietminh, according to statements made by one of the missionaries, Father Santiago Nunes.

"The husband is the head of the house, the wife is the heart, and both together are the hands," says the Rev. E. S. Lautenslager of Toronto, writing on Education for Marriage in the United Church Observer. He adds, "The relation . . . is perhaps somewhat like that of a pitcher and catcher on a baseball team. The pitcher gets more publicity . . . but it is the catcher largely who holds the team together."

Writing in the current issue of The Nation, Dr. F. Ernest Johnson, educator and social historian, who is professor emeritus of education at the Teachers' College of Clumbia University, New York, says that "in recent years Protestant thought in America has experienced a change of climate. The rather easy and enthusiastic optimism about man and the world, which prevailed during the early decades of the century, has been tempered by an ethical 'realism' which has a more orthodox theological base."

Dr. John Scott Lidgett, who has been called the greatest Methodist since John Wesley, died in England on the eve of the 150th anniversary of the birth of Wesley, about eight weeks before his own 99th birthday. He had hoped to preach on Wesley on his 100th birthday. Preaching two years ago in Wesley's Chapel he restated Wesley's command: "Do all the good you can in all the ways you can to all the people you can."

A group of leaders of the British Council of Churches, the Free Church Federal Council, and other important alliances of Anglicans and Nonconformists called last month on Anthony Nutting, parliamentary under-secretary of state for foreign affairs, to discuss the persecution of Protestants in Colombia. Mr. Nutting was very hopeful that the firm representations made by Her Majesty's ambassador at Bogota to the Colombian Government would lead to an improvement of the situation. Representatives of the British Council of Churches also called on the Colombian ambassador in London.

The United Church Men's Conference held at Elgin House, Muskoka, in June, drew together 150 men from all over the country for a three-day study of the theme, "Christ in Your Daily Life." It was decided to hold a second national conference at the same place next June, and regional conferences in the Maritimes and in the West. The men were in favor of holding a local conference in each conference area in Canada.

The Most Rev. Thomas Hannay, Bishop of Argyll and the Isles, and Primus of the Episcopal Church of Scotland, who took part in the dedication service attended by the Queen in St Giles' Cathedral, Edinburgh, is descended from the Dean Hannah, who was reading the service in St. Giles' early in the 17th century when the redoubtable Jenny Geddes threw a stool at him for "daring to say Mass in my ear."

The dean could hardly have imagined that his descendant, as a later metropolitan of the then hated "English" Church of Scotland, would be an honored guest in the same St. Giles'.

Noted Preacher To Speak at First Baptist

A Baptist minister from Edmonton, listed by a national magazine as "one of the seven greatest living Canadian preachers," will be heard in First Baptist Church Sunday.

Rev. E. J. Bailey, who is holidaying with his wife and two daughters, has agreed to sing a solo at the morning service. He would not agree to give a sermon however.

Possessing a fine baritone voice, Mr. Bailey is minister of the First Baptist Church, Edmonton. He is immediate past president of the Baptist Union of Western Canada.

During the war Mr. Bailey served overseas as a chaplain with the Edmonton Rifles. He rose to the rank of major.

He has just been invited to Ottawa where he will preach on the Church over the Air program. Preachers on this program are flown from their own cities to Ottawa at the radio station's expense.

Rev. Dr. Harry W. Kerley, a former minister of Belmont United Church in this city, will conclude his guest ministry at Metropolitan United Sunday.

Dr. Kerley, son of the late Rev. W. H. and Mrs. Kerley, of 1031 Terrace Avenue, is now minister of Bellefair United Church, Toronto. He has preached at Metropolitan United here for the last month.

A nation-wide Bible campaign will be launched this fall by the British Council of Churches in collaboration with the British and Foreign Bible Society, under the title: "The Bible Speaks Today." "Bible weeks" are planned throughout the country to present the challenge of the Bible to contemporary life. The Bible Society celebrates its 150th anniversary next year.

Next game Saturday: Vancouver at Nanaimo.

VANCOUVER—PNE Indians continued their home-floor domination over Victoria Shamrocks Friday night by scoring a 10-8 decision over the Irish to retain second place in the Inter-City Lacrosse League.

It was the fourth straight time this season that Indians have defeated Victoria on their home floor and they are the only club in the league to hold an edge over the Rocks, who have won three straight from the second-place team at Memorial Arena.

LEAD STILL BIG

Defeat left the Irish eight points up on the Indians and nine points ahead of Vancouver Pilseners. The Rocks have four games remaining while the Indians have five and the Pils, six. Shamrocks meet Vancouver Tuesday night on the Mainland and host Indians for the final time this season Wednesday night and two victories would give Victoria its third straight league championship.

There wasn't much doubt last night as to who would win. Indians controlled play all through the game, allowing the Shamrocks only 27 shots on goalie Stan Joseph.

Winners held a 2-1 lead after the first quarter and a 6-4 edge at the half. Victoria's best period was the third when they outscored Indians, 2-1, but the best the Shamrocks could do in the final quarter was to climb to within one goal before Fred Davison scored the clincher at 8.08.

SEVERSON SCORES

The high-scoring line of Whitey Severson-Larry Booth-Al Gill accounted for five of the loser's goals, with Severson and Booth each scoring twice. Severson also picked up an assist to run his league-leading point total to 95, 12 points short of the league record.

League officials Friday released the playoff date for the two semi-final series, providing there is no shift in the standings until the end of the season.

If the expected happens, the Indians will meet Vancouver August 17 in the first game of a best-of-five series, played either at Vancouver or Kerrisdale Arena, depending on which team winds up in second place.

Shamrocks will start their semi-final series against Nanaimo Native Sons August 17 at Memorial Arena.

No Report On Ladder

There was no report of fish weighed in at either Hall's Boathouse or Brentwood last night, leaving the standings in the ninth week of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Angler's Association ladder derby unchanged.

Only 10 of the 50 rungs have been filled in the ninth week of qualifying fishing, the top rung being shared by four anglers with 8½-pound catches.

Californians To Decide Net Champion

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two Californians will meet Saturday in the finals of the men's singles at the Western Canada Lawn Tennis Championships.

Jim Skelton, Vancouver's last hope for the title, bowed out in the semi-finals Friday to Merv Miller of San Francisco, 6-0, 6-1, 6-1.

The other finalist will be Dave Makoff of Los Angeles who whipped Jim Neer of Portland, 10-8, 6-4, 6-1.

The women's open singles will also be an all-American affair, B. Lum of Portland meeting J. Hopps of Seattle.

Montreal Royals Gain Full Game

(By The Canadian Press)

Montreal Royals gained a full game Friday night on the International League leading Buffalo Bisons by downing them 14-2 at Montreal in the first of an all-important four-game series.

Meanwhile, Rochester Red Wings bounced back into the victory column with a 10-4 decision over the last-place Springfield Cubs. Syracuse took a 3-1 victory over the Orioles at Baltimore in the only other scheduled game.

City's Little Leaguers Lose, But Gain Praise

(Special to the Colonist)

VANCOUVER—Victoria Little League All-Stars bowed out of the Little League sectional playoffs at South Burnaby's Bonsor Park Friday night but the team, only in its first year of competition, did Victoria credit with a fine exhibition of baseball.

Playing against Vancouver Jaycee National League All-Stars, one of the top teams on the Mainland, Victoria dropped an 8-0 decision despite a brilliant pitching performance by curve-balling Steve Bishop.

Victoria, now eliminated from further competition in the championship round, meets a Marpole-Richmond team in a consolation final Saturday at 4.30 p.m.

MUNROE GOOD

It was a case of lack of clutch hitting and a great mound display by Vancouver's ace southpaw, George Munroe, that sent Victoria down to its defeat.

Munroe, undefeated in 10 starts this season, gave up only four hits to a Victoria team that couldn't get untracked at the plate. Bishop was almost as good, yielding eight hits, but the winners put their base blows together. Bishop took 10 via the strike-out route while Munro whiffed eight.

Victoria showed well in the field, committing only one error and making several outstanding defensive plays, the best coming when first baseman Ray Benwell made a good stop of a well-tagged grounder and beat the runner to the bag.

HITTING STARS

Second baseman Bud Taylor and shortstop Barry Harvey each picked up two hits for Victoria, with Taylor getting the only extra-base blow, a double.

Larry Malinauski had a home run and a single for the winners.

Jack Barrie, coach of the Vancouver squad, had nothing but praise for the visitors, especially for Bishop. "We haven't seen anyone that fast all year," he said.

Victoria coaches Don Wakelyn and Roy Barnes both said after the game the boys couldn't have given a finer exhibition. "They looked sharp out there," Wakelyn said. "And they certainly did. Victoria credit for the first season of Little League."

Canada's Tennis Trophies Go to Australia, Mexico

Mervyn Rose of Australia, above, won the Canadian tennis singles crown at Toronto this week, and teamed up with countryman Rex Hartwig to take the doubles title. He is shown with the magnificent trophy.

Melita Ramirez of Mexico made a clean sweep of the tournament by winning the singles, and teaming with partners to carry off the women's doubles and mixed doubles. The petite school teacher was repeating last year.

Court Asked To Restrain Grid Lineman

OTTAWA (CP) — Cleveland Barons through their lawyer here Friday asked for an Ontario Supreme Court injunction to restrain John Kissell, 250-pound linesman, from playing football with Ottawa Rough Riders.

W. G. Burke-Robertson, lawyer representing the club, said the writ of summons seeking the injunction was issued Friday.

Kissell allegedly signed contracts with both the Browns and the Ottawa entry in the Big Four Football Conference.

OTTAWA TO FIGHT

Jim McCaffrey, president of the Ottawa club, said: "We'll fight to the limit to retain Kissell. He wants to play here and he'll play here unless the courts rule otherwise. The club will protect Kissell in every way."

Sterling Newell, Jr., lawyer and acting secretary of the Browns, said: "Kissell is our property. He renewed our option within the appointed time and he signed the contract. We'll go to court to see that Kissell honors the contract."

Kissell said: "Spent all day at the beach. Gee, that sun is great."

U.S. Defends Wightman Cup

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Tennis queen Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly and veteran Doris Hart, playing in her eighth series, Friday drew the top singles assignments for the task of defending the Wightman Cup from young British invaders.

Miss Connolly, at 18 holder of every major tennis crown in the world, will oppose Angela Mortimer, 21-year-old Torquay miss, in the first singles match.

Miss Hart, from Coral Gables, Fla., will face Helen Fletcher, a 21-year-old lefthander from Derbyshire.

Miss Connolly will team with Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., 1947 U.S. champion, in the day's closing encounter—a doubles match against Miss Mortimer and Ann Shilcock, from Sussex.

Remember When:

Percy Williams was eliminated from the 100-meter dash in a semi-final at the Los Angeles Olympics 21 years ago today. Eddie Tolan of the United States won the heat and equalled the Vancouver star's world record time of 10.3 seconds set in 1930.

FIRST WORKOUT

Oak Bay Goblins Canadian football team will hold their first workout of the season Sunday morning at Windsor Park at 11 a.m. Anyone interested is urged to attend.

Cincinnati	45	55	.450	20½
Chicago	35	61	.365	28½
Pittsburgh	32	73	.305	36

The Dodgers took another wide stride forward Friday night in the National League pennant race when they topped the Cardinals, 2-1, behind the six-hit pitching of Carl Erskine, who turned in his sixth straight victory.

Jim Gilliam set the batting pace as he doubled and moved around to score for one tally and singled home the other. It marked the first victory for the Brooks in St. Louis this season.

BRAVES FALL BACK

The victory put them eight games in front of Milwaukee once again after the Braves blew a 5-1 decision to the Phillies in the opener, then battled to a scoreless 10-inning tie in a rain-halted second game as Bob Miller and Max Surkont pitched scoreless ball to no avail. Robin Roberts won his 18th victory for the Phils in the opener, giving up only four hits and striking out five. Del Ennis hit a homer to start the Phillies out in front, then came home in the third on Stan Lopata's three-run homer to ice the game.

The Giants breezed to a 9-2 victory over Cincinnati as Larry Jansen scored his fifth victory this season over the Ohioans. Al Dark hit his 11th homer and Hank Thompson his 20th as the Giants pounded out 13 hits which went for a lot more mileage than the 12 which Jansen gave up.

PORTERFIELD HOT

In the American League, Bob Porterfield turned in one of his most masterful performances to top the White Sox 2-0 with a three-hitter as Washington pushed Chicago 5½ games behind the Yankees in the pennant race.

The defeat ended a string of eight straight victories for Virgil Trucks since he joined the White Sox. Jackie Jensen doubled home a run in the first inning and scored himself on an error and a single by Jim Busby to account for the game's only rallying.

Ralph Branca pitched the Tigers to a 5-3 nine-hit triumph over the skidding Red Sox at Boston. Jim Delsing provided two runs in the fourth with a timely single and the Tigers put over two more in the fifth, one on an error by left fielder Hoot Evers.

Wally Westlake batted in four runs, getting five hits in Cleveland's 12-6 triumph over the Athletics. He had a homer and four singles as relief pitcher Dave Hoskins picked up his fourth victory against one loss. Owen Friend also hit a Cleveland homer.

YANKS PRACTICE

The Browns moved into New York, so the Yankees took two hours and 29 minutes of batting practice and pounded out the kind of an 11-5 12-hit victory that is customary whenever the punching bags from St. Louis show up.

It marked the 13th victory against only two defeats for the Yankees over the tail-end boys. Yogi Berra produced a triple and a pair of singles to drive in three runs.

Jim McDonald coasted to his seventh victory against four defeats, yielding eight hits.

Murray Dickson, a good pitcher with a bad ball club, came up with one of his better performances when he pitched the Pirates to a 4-0 victory over the Cubs. He gave up eight hits and was in no serious trouble.

Don Stringer Single Blade Canoe Champ

OTTAWA (CP)—Don Stringer of the Sudbury, Ont., Canoe Club captured the 10,000-metre single-blade singles championship Friday at the opening of the two-day 53rd annual Canadian Canoe Association championship regatta.

The 20-year-old husky crossed the finish line three-eights of a mile ahead of Lloyd Rice of Toronto, defending the championship he won last year. Stringer finished in 62 minutes, 31 seconds.

Stringer and Rice had been wagering a battle for the championship for the last three years. In 1951 Stringer finished ahead of Rice but last year Rice won the championship with Stringer placing second.

In the first race of the day, Rice, 25-year-old Toronto textile cutter, retained his championship in 10,000-metre double-blade singles.

His hard stroking gave him a quarter-mile margin over Bill Brigden of Winnipeg with a time of 54.0.8. Brigden was followed across the finish line by Pat Way of Ottawa.

Control Need Of Simmons

MILWAUKEE (AP)—There's nothing wrong with Curt Simmons that conditioning and better control won't cure.

"Simmons has been knocked out of the box in his last four starts and has won and lost five since returning to action a few weeks ago. The 24-year-old bonus hurler caught his foot in a power mower June 4 and was out about three weeks.

Simmons says his foot doesn't bother him, he just can't seem to get the ball where he wants it, so has to slow down his fast ball. The batters are rapping him hard.

GOALIE SIGNED

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—Johnny Sofiak, 25-year-old Saskatoon goalie, has been signed to guard nets for Vernon Canadians of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League in 1953-54, club officials have announced.

U.S. Gridder Not Import

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton's football Eskimos have a recruit who club officials think will be classed as a Canadian although he has played all his football in the United States.

He is quarterback Ray Willsey, born in Weyburn, Sask., 24 years ago.

Willsey, a University of California grad, was uncovered by Annis Stukus of Vancouver Lions, who are scheduled to enter the Western Conference in the 1954 season.

Al Anderson, executive manager for Eskimos, thinks Willsey will be classed as a Canadian, thus not one of the eight imports allowed after October 1.

Students Win First Game Of Playoffs from Aces

Chinese Students, who were nosed out of the Senior "A" Men's Softball League championship by Capital City Gasmen, started off in the right direction in defense of the city crown at Central Park Friday night.

Scoring once in each of the eighth and ninth innings, the Students edged Butler's Aces, 5-4, in the first game of their best-of-five semi-final series. Second game is slated for Central Park Monday night at 6.45 o'clock.

Students twice had to come from behind to grab the decision. Scoring once in the first inning, the Students saw their lead evaporate when Butler's went ahead with a three-run outburst in the bottom of the fifth.

Students tied it up with two runs in the sixth but again Aces came back to take the lead by scoring a singleton in the bottom of the sixth.

The winners pushed across the tie-breaking run without the aid of a base-hit. Quinton Mar walked to open the inning and was sacrificed to second. Jim John then sent a long fly to centre field which Herb Bates dropped and Mar scooted home from second with the winning run.

Bud Ross went the distance for the winners, giving up eight hits, one more than his mound opponent, big John Furmston. However, he was rough in the clutch and got out of a tough jam in the eighth when Archie Sluggett and Furmston led off with singles.

ROSS, MAR DOUBLE

Ross and Mar each picked up doubles for the winners while last season's batting champion, Hal Yardley, picked up two singles for the Aces.

Sunday at Central Park, the Gasmen and Navy will resume their semi-final series with the league champions enjoying a one-game lead. Game time is 2.30 p.m.

Bill Bottler pitched brilliant three-hit ball and stroked a Martin supplied the punch at the plate as Victoria Tyees trimmed Spokane Indians, 7-1, in the first game of a Western International League double-header at Spokane Friday night.

Bottler, giving up only three walks, was the complete master, as he yielded two doubles in the first inning, a single in the second, then blanked the Indians the rest of the way.

Spokane Indians gained a split in their Western International Baseball League doubleheader with Victoria Tyees by winning a 20-11 victory in the second game.

Victoria picked up nine hits off two Spokane pitchers but five of their runs came after two men were out and they bunched their base blows when it counted.

Doubles by Ed Murphy and Stan Paiva accounted for Spokane's only run in the first frame but the Tyees came back with a single counter in the third on doubles by Dwane Helbig and Lu Branham off starter Jack Spring.

Shortstop Jim Clark singled two runs home to give the Tyees the lead in the fourth and after Don Pries had singled and Granny Gladstone had drawn a base on balls, Martin crashed his sixth homer of the year over the left-center field wall, about 365 feet from the plate.

Virgil Giovannoni, on option from the St. Louis Browns, gave up the final run in the sixth when his error allowed Bottler to score from third.

Salem Senators failed to gain any ground on the second-place Indians as they went down to a 2-1 defeat at the hands of last place Wenatchee Chiefs.

Rick Botelho, 18-year-old Wenatchee southpaw, hurled a two-hitter, both blows coming in the fifth inning.

Lewiston climbed into a third-place tie with Yakima by trimming Vancouver, 6-4, while the Bears dropped a 10-2 decision to Tri-City Braves.

Calgary Stampeders snapped a five-game losing streak as they downed Edmonton Eskimos, 5-4, their first victory over the Eskimos in their current home stand.

Events Going To Canadians

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—American domination of the swimming and diving championships at the annual Kelowna regatta appeared to be at an end Friday night. The three-day extravaganza winds up tonight.

Percy Norman's Vancouver Swimming Club has established a strong claim to the team laurels held the last two years by the Aero Club of Portland.

Ocean Falls, B.C., has a firm grip on second placed while VASC stars are leading in both senior aggregates.

Betty Thirlwell is pacing the women's events and Jerry McNamee tops the men's.

Regatta Has New Queen

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—The new reigning beauty of the Kelowna Regatta is 17-year-old Linda Ghezzi.

Sponsored by Kelowna's Kiwanis Club, Miss Ghezzi was chosen Lady of the Lake Thursday, succeeding Kathy Archibald, last year's winner.

Miss Archibald was recently named "Miss Canada" at a contest at Burlington, Ont.

Speaking Briefly

The Jamaican Olympic Association has unofficially accepted an invitation to send a team to the 1954 British Empire Games in Vancouver.

* * *

Winnipeg's Abe Yanofsky edged back into a three-way tie for second place in the Glasgow chess tournament Thursday by drawing his fourth-round game and winning an adjourned game.

* * *

Bob Boyd of Toronto Maple Leafs has been recalled by Chicago White Sox. He celebrated the news Thursday night with a triple and three singles.

Gordon Brydson of Toronto Mississagua and Bob Gray of Scarboro went eight extra holes at Toronto yesterday before Brydson won his way into the semi-finals of the 25ths annual Millar Golf Tournament.

The $90,500 Arlington Handicap, which today ends the Arlington Park season, could wind up as "the revenge of Hill Gail." Eddie Arcaro, who has ridden Hill Gail in his last two dismal starts, asked and received permission to move to Sub Fleet in the race. However, Hill Gail last night was still without a rider, while the Arcaro-Sub Fleet combo was an odds-on favorite.

Young Island Baseball Players Invited to Tyee School, Aug. 6, 7

Vancouver Island's young ball players were invited Friday night to attend Victoria Tyees' Baseball School at Royal Athletic Park on August 6 and 7.

Reg. Patterson, general manager, said that all youngsters 14 and over were welcome to try out, with the big hope that some of the players will be Tyee stalwarts in a few years.

Cec Garriott will be in charge of the school, with Vancouver Capilanos' manager Harvey Storey lending an experienced hand. All of the Tyees' players will be available for pointers and to help keep the school moving briskly.

The youngsters will be graded and there will be prizes for such categories as the best prospect, best hitter, etc.

The school starts each day at 10.30 a.m., and the young players will be the guests of the management at night as the Tyees meet the Capilanos.

Next week is slated to be a big one for the fans, with Fan Night set for Friday, August 7. It will be the biggest give-away program in city sports history, according to Patterson, who said that 100 prizes will include everything under the sun, from movie projectors, Indian sweaters, hams, chickens, and tons of coal, to others too numerous to mention.

Patterson was jubilant, too, that Portland has not recalled Granny Gladstone, who, with Dwane Helbig, is giving the Tyees a potent one-two punch at the plate.

The dealine for recalls passed last night without any disturbing telegrams or telephone calls from Portland, Patterson reported.

Mangrum Now Leads All-America Tourney

CHICAGO (AP) — Dapper Lloyd Mangrum dropped an 18-foot birdie putt on the 17th green that paid off for a second-round 68 Friday and shot him into a one-stroke lead with 137 at the end of 36 holes in the $25,000 All-American golf tournament.

Mangrum, who will be 39 today, pinned his 33-33—66 to an opening 69 to snip seven strokes off par at Tam O'Shanter, a course he represents on the tournament circuit.

BIRDIE PUTT

Mangrum, second leading money winner with $15,366 this season, nearly was jammed into the 138 bracket with four others until his birdie putt on 17. But this put him to the front in the bunched chase for the $3,420 first award. Mangrum, U.S. Open champion in 1946, won both the All-American and "World" tournaments at Tam in 1948.

Grouped on his heels at 138 were Jimmie Clark, 32-year-old ex-Marine from Laguna Beach, Calif., with a 69; the 1953 Canadian Open champion, Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., with 67; Ed Furgol, withered-arm pro from Clayton, Mo.; and Porky Oliver who fired a sparkling 65.

Henry Martell of Edmonton scored a second-round 73, and this coupled with his earlier 75 gave him a 148 total, far down the field.

On the heels of the leaders were such veterans as Lawson Little, who hooked a 69 to his first-round 70, and 120-pound Bob Toski, who welded a 34-32—66 to his 73.

SNEAD HAS 68

Among those grouped at 140 were Sam Snead with a second-round 68.

Little Betty Hicks of Culver City, Calif., the 1941 women's national champion, continued to set the pace in the All-American Women's Open with a sparkling second round of 37-36—73 for a half-way tally of 149, three under par.

John Levinson, Chicago lawyer, who is Tam O'Shanter's club champion, maintained his lead in the men's amateur bracket with 143.

Golf--- Here's How

BY SAM SNEAD

The dotted arms and hands show the area where you slowly begin to cock the wrist in the backswing. Until this hip-high point is reached, the club shaft should be simply a continuation of your straight left arm which is carrying the club back and, at the same time, winding up your hip and shoulder pivot. When you have reached the top of your backswing, as pictured in the solid line drawing at the left, your hands are in the fully cocked position. Keep them fully cocked as you swing down to the ball until the hands reach the same place where you started to cock them (the hip-high dotted line position). From there on you start un-c-o-c-king to uncock them. You finish this important hand action at impact. At the right is a short shot with a highly lofted iron. It should be an upright swing. Notice how our player is bent well over the ball which makes the perpendicular swing easier.

Williams, Robertson Set Fielding Marks

Little League baseball fielding averages wouldn't be much help in reflecting the order the four teams wound up after the first season of play, according to statistics compiled by the sports department of The Daily Colonist Friday.

Rotary, which finished a sad last, seven games off the pace, has the best team fielding percentage with an .866 mark, while Odd Fellows, the third-place club finished with .854. Gyros were next with .846, while the league champion North Kiwanis squad trailed with an .826 mark.

However, the Kiwanians accepted more chances than any of the other three teams, 627, but erred 99 times in comparison to Rotary's 76 miscues.

MOST DOUBLE PLAYS

Odd Fellows were out in front in the double play department with eight, better than one every three games, while Kiwanis and Rotary came up with six twin killings apiece.

Best defensive player among the regulars was Odd Fellows' snappy catcher, Barry Williams, who made only nine errors in 187 chances for a percentage of .952. Keith Robertson of Gyros, who split the season between catcher and the outfield, was next with a .951 mark.

Seventeen of the 64 players who saw action this season had a percentage of .900 or better, while 36 players fielded better than .800.

Williams had the most put-outs, 163, while Don Ballard, North Kiwanis' hustling second baseman, picked up the most assists, 37. Ed Castner of Rotary, Bill White of Odd Fellows, and Bill Hobbis of Odd Fellows, each shared in five double plays.

Cockell Sure Of Fight

SEATTLE (UP) — British heavyweight champ Don Cockell said yesterday he is confident he will beat Harry (Kid) Matthews in their scheduled 10-rounder here next Friday and then will seek a title match with world heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

In an interview at his hotel Cockell said: "I feel confident that I will take him."

The stocky ex-blacksmith, who won his empire crown three months ago from Johnny Williams in London, rested Friday and began workouts at the Seattle Boxing Club Saturday.

Neither Cockell nor Cowd has seen Matthews fight or seen movies of the Kid in action. He will meet Matthews today on a strictly social call at the Seattle Boxing Club.

New York's Billy Martin Target for Hard Knocks

NEW YORK (UP)—Second baseman Billy Martin has become a target for hard-sliding rival players in the American League.

He doesn't mind it, but his New York Yankee mates do.

And it ruffles the dander of manager Casey Stengel, who said today, "Billy's being hit with the hardest blocks this side [illegible]

The hard-sliding runners feel they can plough into the 155-pounder with relative impunity because of the public impression Martin is a trouble-maker.

But his mates say the public has the wrong impression and that Martin is "just a fellow who likes to win."

Stengel and Yankee players admit, however, that the runners are doing nothing illegal and are not flashing their spikes at Martin.

Martin seems less concerned than his friends. He said yesterday, "They can slide as hard as they like, as long as they slide clean."

Bowler Takes Ten Wickets For 102 Runs

LONDON— (Reuters) — Bob Berry, 27, Lancashire left-arm slow bowler, took all 10 Worcestershire second-inning wickets Friday, first time the feat has been accomplished in first-class English cricket since 1949.

Berry gave up only 102 runs in the process, but the Worcestershire total reached 318. Lancashire won the match by a slim 18 runs.

Middlesex returned to the top of the county championship table with an 82-run win over Hampshire. Middlesex had declared at 48 for three in the second innings, leaving Hampshire to get 197 to win, but Hampshire was all out for 114.

SUSSEX SECOND

Middlesex now has 134 points from 21 matches. In second place is Sussex, with 124 points from 19 games.

Final scores:

Surrey 299 for eight declared, Australian Tourists 227 for nine, match abandoned, no play Friday, rain.

Yorkshire 350 for four declared and 226 for three declared, Kent 263 and 161. Yorkshire won by 152 runs.

Leicestershire 267 and 222 for nine declared, Warwickshire 183 and five for no wicket, match abandoned, drawn, rain.

Northamptonshire 330 for nine declared, Sussex 306 for six, match abandoned, no decision, no play Friday, rain.

Lancashire 368 and 262 for eight declared, Worcestershire 191 and 318. Lancashire won by 18 runs.

Gloucestershire 201 and 141, Nottinghamshire 186 and 259 for three, Nottinghamshire won by seven wickets.

Middlesex 300 and 48 for three declared, Hampshire 183 and 114. Middlesex won by 82 runs.

Hockey Talks Moved Ahead

SEATTLE (CP) — The fall meeting of the Western Hockey League in Edmonton has been moved ahead to August 4.

League president G. A. Leader said Thursday that the meeting has been advanced because of difficulty in drafting a season schedule satisfactory to all members.

Other items on the agenda include how many teams will participate in post-season playoffs and in the number of games to be played; selection of officials; rule changes; and approval or rejection of a proposed play-off with the Quebec Hockey League champions.

Games Set At Brockton

VANCOUVER (CP) — Some stiff competition is expected in the 67th annual Caledonian Games at Brockton Oval here Saturday.

A real battle in the 880-yard run is promised between Bill Parnell, Doug Clement and Ron Lucas, while Harry Nelson and Bruce Springbett are expected to steal the show in the 220. The latter won the Canadian 220 title at Toronto last week.

In the girls' division, Campbell River's Valerie Haig-Brown will be on hand to challenge Vancouver's Alyce Folz, Ann Reid and Gerry Bemister. Lucila Law, the Olympic ace, is not entered in the sprints. She sprained her knee skiing last winter.

Next games: Saturday, Eagles vs. Cleaners, 7 p.m.; Farmers vs. Cleaners, 8.30 p.m., Royal Athletic Park.

Undefeated Farmers Construction roared to their 18th straight win in the Senior Amateur Baseball League Friday night, by handing the hapless Central Cartage crew a 19-0 loss behind the six-hit pitching of young Ed Corbett, at Royal Athletic Park.

Scoring in every inning, the winners started it off with a five-run outburst in the first and matched that total with another spree in the fourth frame.

Farmers racked two Cartage pitchers for 13 hits including three doubles and a triple. Des Mosley started for the losers, but was relieved in the fifth frame by Dave Wakelyn. The Cartagemen didn't help their pitchers as they booted the ball 10 times, while the winners played errorless ball.

Norm Forbes picked up three hits in six times to the plate including a double, while John Shields, Ed Dorohoy and Ronnie Martin each had two hits.

Catcher Fred Summer and Wakelyn each hit two singles for the losers.

Dalton Winner In Skeet Shoot

RENO, Nev. (UP). — Thirty-three-year-old Chevy Chase, Md., investment broker John C. Dalton won 20 gauge honors in the national skeet tournament Thursday by winning a six-way shoot-off for the championship.

Dalton, competing in the second day's events of the five-day tourney, won the national .28 gauge crown Wednesday.

Barnard Cup Play

The Victoria West Lawn Bowling Club's Barnard Cup competition will wind up Saturday with matches scheduled in two events.

Draw follows:

Event 1—Barr vs. Davidson, Tobey vs. Baker.

Event 2—Wood vs. Keating, Johnston vs. Renfrew, Eastham vs. Philips, Boyle vs. Dickie.

All teams are asked to start play promptly.

Albions Out To Hold Lead

Albions will be out to protect their two-point lead in the Victoria and District Cricket Association Saturday when they meet second-place Oak Bay at Windsor Park at 2.30 p.m.

As a victory in the league counts three points, Oak Bay can take over first place with a win while Albions will be gunning for a five-point margin over the Bays.

In the other match, Incogs meet Cowichan at University School grounds.

Oak Bay boosts follows: Bob Colquhoun, Tony Bristowe, Michael Gerry, Ted Parkins, Bob Stewart, Cadet R. H. Roberts, A. Abbott, J. Thornton, A. Smith, G. McKenny and Graham Odgers.

'B' Softball Finalists Still All Even

Tillicums and Joe Fosters failed to decide the Senior "B" Men's Softball League zone play-off championship at Heywood Avenue Park Friday night when they battled to a 10-10, nine-inning deadlock in the fifth game of a best-of-five series.

A replay of Friday night's game is expected to be held at Heywood Avenue Park Wednesday night at 6.45 p.m.

Tillicums were coasting on a 10-3 lead going into the bottom of the seventh when Fosters broke loose for seven runs to tie up the game.

RELIEF NEEDED

Neither starting pitcher, Bill Konkin for Tillicums, and Cy Guest managed to last out the free-hitting game. Konkin was relieved by Alf Aspinall in the seventh while Guest was replaced by Bob Lyons during a three-run Tillicum rally in the third inning.

Uncle Wiggily Story

By Howard Garis

HARD AND FAST

All the turtles on Mud Turtle Island in Frog Pond were very quiet as they waited for what was to happen next. Twiddle, the turtle who could not pucker up his beak enough to whistle, had learned to make jolly, sweet sounds on a willow whistle given him by Bully the big frog. And now Twiddle, holding the willow whistle, stood on a big stone beside Tooter, the first and original whistling turtle of the Island.

In front of them squatted the other turtles. A little off to one side was Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman with the pink, twinkling nose. He had left his Amusement Raft, anchored in Frog Pond, to come in a rowboat, with Bosun, Buster and Bunty, to ride Tooter back to Mud Turtle Island. Tooter had been driven from his island by the other turtles. They said he was proud and stuck up because he could whistle and they couldn't, but that was not true at all.

"Are you all ready to give us a concert on your willow whistle, Twiddle?" asked Tooter.

"Yes, I am ready," answered Twiddle. "But I must ask my manager, first."

"Who is your manager, Twiddle?" asked Buster. He was manager of the Rabbit Scout Baseball Club, and he thought he could learn something from a turtle's manager.

"Bully the frog, who made the willow whistle for me, is my manager," answered Twiddle. Then, turning to the big frog, the turtle asked: "Is it all right for me to give a concert of music on the willow whistle that you made for me?"

"Yes, Twiddle, it is quite all right," answered Bully in his deep, booming, croaking voice. "Go on! Play!"

Twiddle didn't need to pucker his lips. He just put the willow whistle in his mouth and blew and blew and blew.

Trilling, sweet sounds came out of the willow whistle! My goodness me sakes alive and a teacup full of soap bubbles! I wish you could have been on Mud Turtle Island in Frog Pond to listen to the music Twiddle made! It was wonderful!

First the turtle played a tune named "Please Don't Ask for Apple Pie Unless You Ask for Cheese!" After that he played "My Shell Is Very Hard but My Heart Is Very Soft!" Then Twiddle played on his whistle a tune named "When the Sun Sets in the West Over Frog Pond!" Oh, it was beautiful!

"Shiver my television, but that was fine, wasn't it, Cap'n Wiggily, sir?" barked Bosun.

"It surely was," answered the rabbit gentleman.

"Please play some more!" begged Bunty the orphan rabbit. "My doll Priscilla likes your music so much that she has gone to sleep!"

"That's good," murmured Buster. "Then she can't give us any more baby talk."

This time Bunty didn't answer Buster, and it was just as well, for it would have been too bad to start a quarrel after the lovely music played by Twiddle on his wooden whistle.

"Is that all of your concert, Twiddle?" asked Tooter the original whistling turtle.

"That is all, thank you," replied Twiddle. "Did you like it?"

"It was wonderful!" exclaimed Tooter. "Take a bow, Twiddle!"

All the other turtles bowed to Twiddle. Then they all bowed to Bully the frog who was Twiddle's manager and who had made the willow whistle for his pupil.

"Avast and belay, Cap'n Wiggily, sir!" barked Bosun. "If this ends the concert, I think we should get back to your Amusement Raft!"

"I think so myself, Bosun," answered Mr. Longears.

"Then all aboard the row boat!" barked Bosun. "Come, Buster and Bunty. We'll row back to the raft."

They all said farewell to the turtles on the island, promising to come back to another concert. In a short time Uncle Wiggily and his friends were back aboard the raft. All was well there.

For Saturday, August 1, 1953

Today's quotation: "Good humor may be said to be one of the very best articles of dress one can wear in society."

—Thackeray.

Saturday for everyone: Take no chances involving business, professional or parental matters. Be conscientious in pursuit of duties and obligations.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below.

March 21 to April 19 (Aries) — Double-check every angle before making moves or changes relating to your exchequer and possessions. Speculation seems unwise.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus) — You and your affairs are in the limelight today. Be sure of your ground before making major moves or changes.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini) — Make sure that neither you nor your associates get off on any unwise tangents. Discount promises heavily.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer) — Don't be altruistic in money affairs and be cautious of possessions or financial dealings with acquaintances.

July 23 to August 22 (Leo) — Defer to superiors but use judgment in those whom you trust. Steer your way carefully through the day's cross-currents.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo) — Your arrangements and outlook are affected by detours, problems. Defer major decisions till the way clears.

September 23 to October 22 (Libra) — Retrench, exercise discrimination and good judgment to avoid extravagance, overdoing, especially where friends are concerned.

October 23 to November 21 (Scorpio) — "Go along" with others, co-operate within the limits you set for yourself, but don't give way re ambitions, principles.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — Keep an eye on service, dealing with co-workers, subordinates. Be on the lookout for weak links in your work and health set-up.

December 22 to January 19 (Capricorn) — Take no chances where resources, assets are risked, accept limitations on your freedom gracefully.

January 20 to February 18 (Aquarius) — Square away unsatisfactory conditions, insist upon stability, sound foundations before lending your support to anything.

February 19 to March 20 (Pisces) — Get the right angle on people and things before making decisions. Someone is bluffing or exaggerating.

Planning Ahead — Good for entertaining, sociability, etc.: August 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, 11.

Canada's baking industry employs over 34,000 Canadians.

Canada Declines To Press For Part in Korea Talks

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will not participate in any political conference on Korea if requested by the United Nations General Assembly but will give such a move full support, External Affairs spokesman said Friday.

He was commenting on a statement Thursday in the British House of Commons by acting Prime Minister R. A. Butler that the United States, France, British North and South Africa, India and Turkey should attend the political conference on Korea which is to be held under the armistice terms.

The spokesman said that Canada as a contributor to the U.N. forces in Korea "has large interests in the Far East."

Canada would therefore welcome participation in any political conference on Korea, but would not participate in a conference to which it was not invited. A conference on Korea, which under the armistice terms is to take place within three months.

Parley Top-Heavy With Republicans

SEATTLE (AP)—The annual governors' conference which opens here Sunday will have more Republican chief executives than at any conference since before the Democratic landslide of 1932.

But Frank Bane, secretary of the conference since 1935 said, "You won't be able to tell the Democrats from the Republicans without a program."

The conference is expected to bring together 11 Democrats and 12 Republicans. When they sit down at the round table there will be a picture of politicians without parties. Mr. Bane said in quoting a description of last year's meeting.

Mr. Bane said he has sat through 15 governors' conferences "and even I wouldn't be able to determine the parties of the various governors from their discussions."

Mr. Bane's opinion is not supported by Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, Democrat and chairman of this year's conference and Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado, a Republican.

As two of the early arrivers, Governors Shivers and Thornton synchronized the bipartisan nature of the conference by having beer together at Gov. Shivers' ranch.

Trimming through the record of 41 years of conferences at Houston, Tex., Mr. Bane pointed to several resolutions the governors adopted unanimously and with little controversy. The same subjects later became matters of extreme controversy before congress or legislatures.

As an example of a resolution which passed the governors with ease now to fail later in heated debate before congress, Mr. Bane pointed to the endorsement of statehood for Hawaii and Alaska.

CBC Signs Contract With Staff

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation Friday signed its first collective bargaining agreement with its employees.

A CBC announcement said the agreement between the publicly-owned corporation and the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians covers approximately 1,000 technical employees in radio and television. Negotiations started early in January and ended July 10 when the agreement was submitted to the employees for ratification.

The agreement provides for a general wage adjustment and reduction of the present work week from 42 to 40 hours. It also calls for improvement in holiday pay, night shift differential, overtime pay on a daily and weekly basis, a modified form of the Rand formula paid vacations and sick pay, and provisions relating to classification, seniority and grievance procedure.

Bullets, Powder Mailed

TROIS-RIVIERES, Que. (CP)—At a Progressive Conservative meeting here Thursday night Delphis Lachance, speaker said he had received through the mail a parcel containing gun powder and revolver bullets.

Mr. Lachance, secretary of the central committee of Trois-Rivieres Catholic labor syndicate, said the powder and the bullets were carefully packed in a package of cigarettes.

The parcel he said, will be passed to the police or the RCMP so that an investigation may be launched.

"Furthermore I will have my fingerprints taken and those of my friends so that there will be no doubt left in the matter," he said.

RCMP in Trois-Rivieres would neither confirm nor deny receipt of the parcel. An official at RCMP headquarters in Montreal said he knew nothing about it.

Ten Homes Burn In Sect Villages

NELSON (CP)—Doukhobor terrorists set 10 homes ablaze in the Krestova district Friday night as their wave of violence appeared to be gaining momentum in the West Kootenay district.

RCMP said eight homes were burned at Krestova. Two more homes were burned at nearby Goose Creek.

In addition police are investigating a fire at Krestova which destroyed a sawmill on Thursday.

"Our patrols have been assigned to watch for more trouble tonight (Friday) as Saturday is another Doukhobor holiday," an RCMP spokesman said.

Police night patrols spotted Doukhobor cars Friday night as they have on previous nights. But there was no trouble.

"It was the usual pattern," said an RCMP officer. "By the time the patrols got there everything was quiet and nobody knew anything."

More than 40 homes, mostly in the Krestova-Goose Creek area, have been burned this year.

Visitors from 'Down Under' En Route to Conference

BY DEE LAVOIE

Two visitors from "down under" dropped into Victoria for an overnight visit en route by air to the Associated Country Women of the World Conference in Texas.

They are Mrs. W. J. Patterson of Rockhampton, Queensland, Australia, president of the Federated Women's Institutes and editor of the queen's own magazine, and Mrs. F. J. Sawyer of New Zealand, [illegible] Country Women's Institutes and Governor of the Maori Women's Institutes.

After a few days of sightseeing here they will leave today.

Yesterday afternoon a tea in their honor was arranged by South Vancouver Island Women's Institutes.

Last evening the visitors were entertained at dinner by the provincial executive of the Women's Institutes.

Mrs. Patterson, who has been in New Zealand since [illegible] Mrs. Sawyer was chatting about what she would like to see in Canada. Mrs. Sawyer replied that she would like to see Canada's vast land of work in the Maori women's Institute.

"We are teaching the Maori women the forgotten arts of their people," she explained.

"There has been a great deal of tribal feeling, and no woman of one tribe would shake her [illegible] into another tribe.

CAPITAL GAIN INVESTORS, PLEASE NOTE

In the third week of August an outstanding property which has many desirable features will be offered for sale. It is my belief that it may be possible to obtain this property for approximately one half of its market value. The property consists of a business which could be readily sold plus a large up-to-date gentleman's home, plus another smaller home situated on one of Vancouver Island's finest beaches. If property were purchased for one half its saleable value, business and small home could be sold for enough to practically get the owner the larger home which I would be at saleable today for $40,000 approximately.

For full details of the possibility contact J. M. Chesman. Evenings E 6873

Winning Contract

Nobody would blame you for suspecting that this freak hand was something dreamed up by a bridge columnist, but we have a witness that it actually happened. She is the wife of one of the players, Dr. Jay Lesnow.

Mrs. Lesnow, who held the East hand and didn't get much chance to exhibit his skill on this particular deal, Mrs. Lesnow had drifted in from the Canasta game to watch just one hand, and this was it!

South had too many high cards to treat West's forcing two-bid with great respect. He realized that West must have a freakish distribution, and once North had raised the spades South decided that there might even be a play for six spades whereas it would be dangerous to allow the opponents to play six diamonds.

West could have defeated the contract with a diamond opening, but it never occurred to him that opening an eight-card suit could be less dangerous than leading the king from his four-card club suit. South trumped the club, banged the ace of spades to drop West's blank king, cashed two high hearts to get rid of dummy's losing diamond, then overtook the jack of spades with dummy's queen and passed the queen of clubs to West's ace. The fall of East's ten of clubs made matters easy, but actually it didn't matter as long as East had another club. With two entries in dummy, declarer could afford to ruff another club if need be.

South had made a doubled small slam against an opening two bid, avoiding the pitfall of leading even a single heart before having dropped West's blank king of trumps. The lady went back to her canasta game and announced: "You know, bridge is a very interesting game to watch."

Highest Western Peak Climbed in Off-Season

BUENOS AIRES (AP)— Reports from Mendoza said a four-man team has succeeded for the first time in making a winter ascent of Mount Aconcagua, highest peak in the Western Hemisphere. The summit is 23,810 feet high. The climbers planted a banner at the top which bore a picture of Eva Peron, late wife of the Argentine president.

EAST FACTORY HANDS DEFY REDS FOR FOOD

Castle Looted Of $7,500,000 Crown Jewels

HECHINGEN, Germany (UP) — Thieves scaled the turreted walls of ancient Hohenzollern Castle early Friday, cut their way through the iron bars of an unguarded storeroom and stole the Prussian crown jewels, valued at $7,500,000.

German police set the value of the gems as historical and art objects.

German police, Friday, set up roadblocks throughout the rolling country of southwest Germany over which the mountain-top structure towers like a castle in a story book. They believed the thieves would head for the Swiss or French border, 50 miles away.

The castle, first built in the ninth century and restored 100 years ago, overlooks the little town of Hechingen from a 2,800-foot mountain. Its massive walls are 10 feet thick and the jewels were displayed behind inch-thick iron bars.

Police said the thieves scaled the walls with wooden ladders and ropes and cut through the heavy iron windows with great pinchers such as used by army engineers. They were so stealthy that watch dogs did not bark. The castle is now inhabited only by servants.

The stolen valuables ranged from the military baton of the Hohenzollern marshals to the jeweled snuff boxes of Frederick the Great, conqueror of the German kingdoms and of Europe. Only the Prussian royal crown was overlooked.

Special investigators who arrived here from Stuttgart state headquarters said the missing crown jewels—none of them insured—included:

Six diamond-studded snuff boxes belonging to Frederick the Great—the boxes from which the ruler dispensed snuff to his wounded soldiers on the battlefields of Europe.

The Prussian field marshal's baton set with rubies and diamonds.

Queen Victoria's baptismal gift to Prince Wilhelm of Prussia—a solid gold dessert bowl with fork and spoon.

A massive gold plate, last of 50 platters owned by the Hohenzollern family. The other 49 were sold to finance the Seven Years' War in which Frederick conquered Silesia.

A Maltese cross with breast plate covered with diamonds.

A star to the Black Eagle Order of Prussia set with diamonds.

A diamond-studded Bulgarian Great Cross with star and crown.

A wristband with painted miniatures of Kaiser Wilhelm and seven children, surrounded with diamonds.

A wrist band with a miniature of Queen Louise, who reigned during the period of Napoleon.

Last big jewel robbery in Germany was in 1946, when three American officers stole $1,500,000 worth of crown jewels of the House of Hesse from stately Kronburg Castle outside Frankfurt.

Hohenzollern Castle contains the tombs of Frederick the Great, Wilhelm I and others in the dynasty of power that made the Hohenzollerns "kings of Prussia."

Civil Seryants Rejoice in Long Week End

Civil servants by the hundreds poured out of provincial government offices in Victoria at 5 p.m. Friday, ready to take off for the first two-day week end brought about by their switch to a five-day week. About half the government's 10,000 employees gain the extra day off, at the expense of longer working days. Only a few government offices will be open Saturday. Getting away for a two-day rest here are Sheila Warren, Barbara Warren, Joanè Painter, Gloria Bodell and Louise Fry.

Intimidate Policemen

Threats of Arrest, Seizure Fail to Discourage Germans

BERLIN (UP)—Tens of thousands of tough East German factory workers—the men whose June 17 rebellion was quelled only by Russian tanks—swarmed into West Berlin Saturday in a hunger march.

They intimidated Communist border guards as they crossed the East-West city line for small packets of American food.

From all over the Soviet zone the men who rose against their Communist masters in June came into West Berlin despite threats of arrest and confiscation of the food they obtained. They walked, rode and cycled past Communist police—shouting taunts as they passed.

They began their hunger march on Berlin as the United States promised food packages for all of the Soviet zone's 18,000,000 residents.

The Communists began mass seizure of the five-pound packages, but another 250,000 East Germans braved Communist wrath and crossed into West Berlin Friday for food. This brought to 900,000 the number who have been fed during the five-day program.

West Berlin authorities began emergency measures to handle the immense throng during the week end, and predicted there would be open rebellion throughout the Soviet occupation zone if "People's Police" tried to interfere with the hunger marchers.

Refugees reported the factory workers—many of them leaders of the strikes and rebellions of June 17 — began organizing workers for the hunger March as early as Thursday.

When the factories closed for the day Saturday, the marchers began massing for the trip to West Berlin.

The workers were reported coming from all corners of the Soviet zone—chemical workers from the great Leuna plant at Merseburg, railroad workers from Magdeburg and Frankfurt-on-Oder and coal miners from Saxony.

A government spokesman said the Communists sent officials to large factories and demanded that workers sign pledges they would not accept food packages. The workers refused and selected their toughest men to travel to Berlin and pick up packages for the whole factory.

The hunger marchers will send well past the 1,000,000 mark the human tide of hungry, shabbily dressed East Germans who flooded into free West Berlin every day this week to draw their packages of lard, flour, meat, vegetables and canned milk.

In Washington, the House of Representatives Friday night approved and sent to the Senate a compromise bill giving President Eisenhower broad power to ship $100,000,000 worth of government food stocks to hungry peoples abroad.

A Senate-House conference committee earlier rejected a a House provision that would have limited to $20,000,000 the quantity that could be shipped to any one country. They decided in view of the success of the system so far that the president should have broad power to send the food wherever it may be needed.

Soviets Claim Credit

BERLIN (AP) — Communist police have seized 100 tons of United States-financed food from needy East Germans heading home from West Berlin and distributed it to Soviet zone welfare institutions as "Soviet aid."

The seizures Friday, the first mass confiscation of the week, were concentrated in six Soviet zone suburbs around Berlin.

East Berlin police sent confiscated American food packages to a warehouse on Gustav Adolf Strasse, in Weissensee Borough. There police trucks loaded up the food again and took it to old people's homes and orphanages.

Red cloth banners on the trucks identified the food as Soviet. The Kremlin has an agreement with Premier Otto Grotewohl's Communist government to sell East Germany $57,000,000 worth of foodstuffs during the remainder of the year in return for strategic industrial goods.

The mass confiscations of food by the Communist police were carried out in Potsdam, Oranienburg, Fuerstenwalde, Zeesen and Michendorf—all way stations on inter-province railway lines to Berlin.

Old women, children, war invalids and youths alike were seized by railway patrols from third-class passenger cars and subjected to search and questioning.

Communist loudspeakers blared warnings of jail for "Ami (American) food beggars" as Berlin-bound trains stopped at suburban stations.

Dream Unachieved, Senator Taft Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Senator Robert Alphonso Taft, who guided the Republican party for years but never won its command, died quietly Friday, victim of relentless cancer that ravaged like wildfire. He was 63.

New York Hospital said he wasn't aware of any illness until three months ago when his legs began to bother him. Death was due to "wide-spread, highly malignant, raidily growing tumors."

His four sons were by his side when death came at 11.30 a.m. EDT. The Republican senator from Ohio had been in a coma and dying for about 13 hours. The hospital said death was quiet and painless.

Mrs. Martha Taft, the senator's wife, remained in Washington, confined to a wheel chair since a stroke. She was flown to New York Tuesday when Taft first took a turn for the worse. She returned to the capital the next day.

Taft was the son of the 27th president of the United States, William Howard Taft. His consuming ambition was to return to the White House as president in his own right.

Four times over a period of 16 years, he sought the Republican presidential nomination. He finally gave up a year ago after President Eisenhower defeated him on the first convention ballot.

Taft was three times senator from his native Ohio. He was one of the sponsors of the controversial Taft-Hartley labor law.

His greatest area of influence was in the Senate, where six months ago he became majority leader under the first Republican president in 20 years. His illness forced him to turn over the duties several weeks ago to Senator William Knowland (R., Calif.) now acting majority leader.

Taft had been counted on to guide President Eisenhower's progam through a Senate where the margin of Republican control was never more than one vote.

Also, he was counted on to help keep a precarious balance in a Republican party that, but for Taft's own sense of party loyalty, might have been split asunder by Eisenhower's 1952 nomination.

At the end, Taft had risen to a position of great party power, if not command. An acknowledged Republican spokesman in the Senate on domestic affairs, he took over foreign policy leadership in the Upper House when Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R., Mich.), died in 1951.

Theoretically, Taft's death could cost the Republicans control of the Senate. Governor Frank J. Lausche of Ohio is a Democrat and presumably will name a fellow-Democrat to succeed Taft.

However, Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, the former Republican who turned Senate Independent, said he will vote Republican, thus assuring the party's continued control of Senate committees.

Sen. John W. Bricker, Ohio's second senator urged the Ohio legislature to change the state election laws so that a successor to Taft could be elected this fall.

The Republican - controlled general assembly, originally scheduled to wind up its current session Friday, decided to postpone such action a week while legislative leaders decided what to do about holding an election this year.

Instead of considering the 13 measures the governor vetoed, the legislature also postponed that action Friday, merely holding a memorial service for Taft.

Governor Lausche said he would not appoint a successor to Taft before Congress adjourns within a few days. It will not sit again until January.

Flier Denies Charge

From AP and BUP Dispatches

TOKYO—A survivor from a United States B-50 shot down Wednesday by two Russian MiG jets says the big bomber was attacked 40 miles off the Siberian coast. Moscow has charged the plane was over Siberia.

The state department immediately sent a protest to Moscow. It said it had information that some of the 16 others aboard the bomber vessel had been picked up by Russian vessels.

Hard on the heels of the U.S. protest, Moscow fired its own protest against the shooting down by American fighters of a Soviet plane "over China." The state department called the Russian claim "nonsense."

Russia claimed its plane was attacked by four American fighters and shot down July 27—the day the Korean truce began. It also said 21 passengers and crewmen of the IL-12 were killed.

WAR AREA

The state department said the plane was shot down eight miles south of the Yalu River over North Korea in a "war area," before the ceasefire went into effect.

Capt. John Ernest Roche, co-pilot of the B50, who spent 22 hours in the water before rescue, told Far East air force headquarters Friday that the plane was nowhere near the mainland.

He said his crew did not even know MiG's were in their vicinity until they were fired upon. The MiG's did not challenge or warn the bomber away from the area, he said.

He said he was not sure how many Russian jets were involved.

"Our first indication of trouble was when 20-millimeter cannon shells hit the No. 1 engine, knocked away the cowl and part of the flaps on the left wing," he said.

Roche said one of the bomber's gunners fired a short burst at the attacking aircraft.

Twenty Lives Lost In Submerged Bus

MORRISBURG, Ont. (CP)—Twenty persons, including eight women, were killed Friday after a Toronto-Montreal express bus of Colonial Coach Lines crashed into a light truck stopped on the highway and plunged into the Williamsburg Canal.

Nineteen persons survived. They were 17 bus passengers—12 men and five women—and the drivers of the bus and truck. There were no children aboard the bus.

The bus knocked the half-ton pickup truck into the canal two miles west of here and followed it, hurtling down a 30-foot embankment to settle with its full load of 37 passengers in the middle of the passage in 20 feet of water.

A bizarre twist to the tragedy was that even as the bus speeded to its fate, Ontario provincial police were rushing to the scene to warn traffic on this main trucking artery of the danger.

One truck driver, not identified, was reported to have passed the stopped truck and paused at the Morrisburg police office to report the hazard. Minutes later, another transport driver, also unidentified, careened dangerously past the little truck, braked, and raced back with flares.

He and the provincial police are reported to have been nearing the scene when the bus came. By the time they arrived, it was all over.

The accident happened at 4.05 a.m. Frantically, sleep-dazed passengers smashed windows in the darkness and scrambled into the water and reached shore. Both doors apparently were buckled shut by the impact.

It was the worst bus tragedy of its kind in Canadian history.

But the bus driver, Lorne Chesebrough, 30, of Kingston, Ont., and the truck driver, Max Roodman, 40, of Toronto, were taken to hospital in a state of deep shock. Police declined to issue an official statement on the accident until they could interview the drivers.

In a garage at the rear of a funeral parlor police grimly counted the dead. There were 12 men and eight women. Most were holidaying. They came from Eastern Canada, the Maritimes and overseas.

By late Friday night, 13 had been positively identified and seven tentatively.

One survivor was 62-year-old Ronald J. P. Mortished of Dublin, Ireland, former chairman of the British Labor Court and representative of the International Labor Organization.

"The first thing I remembered was an explosion followed by what looked like a blue flash. Then the bus seemed to be turning over and over. I don't know whether it did or not, but that was my impression.

"At some stage I realized that water was coming into the bus. I was sitting on the left side right next to the emergency door and I tried to open the door but couldn't.

"A fellow right behind me pulled himself up on the luggage rack and shoved his feet through the window. He went through first and I followed him. My head was practically under water before I got out, and right after that the bus was full of water."

Weather Floods Forecast

EDMONTON (CP) — The weather was so bad in Edmonton Friday night that the forecaster couldn't issue his regular report.

After a near-cloudburst early in the evening, water rose three feet in the basement of the administration building at the Edmonton airport. All power was cut off to the weather office.

The teletypes could not be used and the office had no reports on which to base the 9 a.m. report.

Polygamy Trial Set at Creston

VANCOUVER (CP) — More than 10 persons in Creston Valley will be "tried" by elders of the Mormon church in connection with charges of polygamy, an official said Friday.

Garth Rynhart, head of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in western B.C., said R. Scott Zimmerman of Edmonton, leader of the church in Western Canada, would conduct the trials at Creston.

Mr. Rynhart's statement followed police action earlier this week in Short Creek, Arizona, where 33 Mormon men and seven women were arrested on polygamy charges.

There have been reports, denied by immigration officials, that some members of the Arizona community are headed for Creston Valley.

It was not known when the reported church trial would begin.

Woman Hurt In Sect Fire

NELSON (CP)—One woman was badly burned and several other persons had narrow escapes Friday when fanatic Doukhobors set fire to 10 homes in the West Kootenays.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. William S. Soukoreff who was burned on her face and neck when she attempted to save belongings from her blazing home. (See earlier story on page 12.)

Injured Driver Lifted from Wreckage

Logging truck operator Stanley Bangham of Campbell River is lifted out of the cab after the wharf on which his truck was standing collapsed Wednesday at Campbell River. Bangham suffered a leg fracture in the accident. Mrs. George Jacks, a nearby resident, heard the crash and called an ambulance. Dr. John Depew of Victoria and Dr. James Maloney attended the injured man at the scene.
